SCORES GO DOWN WITH STEAMER

DISASTER REPORTED IN VICINITY OF MUROS.

DETAILS ARE HARD TO GET

THE LA RACHE, HEADED FOR CORUNNA, SINKS.

STRIKES ROCKS IN A FOG

Vessel Carried Almost a Hundred Passengers and a Crew of More Than Fifty—Terrible Panic Follows Crash—Fishermen Lend Aid.

CORUNNA, Spain, June 24.—The Spanish steamer La Rache, from Buenos Ayres, has been wrecked on the coast in the vicinity of Muros. Forty of her passengers have arrived at that port. Details of the disaster are still lacking.

PARIS, June 24.—A special dispatch received here from Corunna, Spain, says that the Spanish steamer La Rache went on the rocks in a fog near Muros, where the cruiser Cardinal Cisneros was wrecked in 1895. The La Rache sank rapidly and a panic followed. There were 97 passengers and 54 of a crew aboard. These took to the boats, but up to the filing of the dispatch only 47 landed. Defective communication has made it impossible to obtain complete details, but the latest report states that 17 women were drowned. It is known that 47 survivors were landed at Muros, but that two of them have since died. Fifteen others were landed at another point. According to the official lists, the La Rache carried a crew of 54, including stewards, waiters, etc., and 97 passengers.

Bound for Muros.

The La Rache came from Cadiz, where she had landed part of her passengers. She was on her way to Muros, when, on account of the fog, she headed for Corunna. Suddenly she ran upon a rock, but the captain who knew the coast well, got his vessel off. Almost immediately she ran upon another rock, which was uncharted.

The steamer, according to a survivor of the crew, sank within a few minutes. The heavy sea, which was running at the time, destroyed two of the lifeboats. Boats from fishing vessels in the vicinity went to the rescue, but could do little for a time on account of the weather conditions.

They succeeded eventually in picking up a large number of men and women who were floating on pieces of wreckage.

Serious Disaster.

LONDON, June 24.—Special dispatches received here from Corunna indicate that the sinking of the steamer La Rache may prove a serious disaster.

The reports received here are very conflicting, but apparently there were nearly 100 passengers aboard the steamship in addition to the large crew. The vessel was wrecked near Muros and sank within eight minutes. There was a terrible panic and the rough seas made launching of the boats impossible almost. Some of them were smashed against the side of the sinking ship.

The fishermen's boats in the vicinity went to the rescue, and succeeded in landing 47 at Muros, 17 at another place nearby. As far as known, no other rescues were made.

A despatch to a news agency here says it is reported that the crew, numbering 53, and 54 of the passengers are safe.

MAY REDUCE FARES

RENO, Nev., June 24.—The Nevada railroad commission yesterday issued citations upon the officers and directors of Tonopah and Goldfield railroad to appear before the commission in Carson and show why passenger fares should not be reduced. The officials are cited to appear June 27, and if they are unable to show reason for not doing so, the passenger fares on the road will be reduced by the Nevada railroad commission to 5 cents per mile.

BAD FIRE AT PITTSBURG.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 24.—More than 100,000 barrels of oil were consumed by fire, three valuable oil refineries destroyed and an estimated loss of about $500,000, caused by electric storms which passed over western and northern Pennsylvania yesterday and today.

The ignition of the large quantity of oil by lightning caused three spectacular fires at Bradford, Warren and Washington, Pa. The fires are now under control.

SHERMAN MUCH BETTER

PHYSICIANS PLEASED WITH HIS PROGRESS.

Necessity of Immediate Operation Removed—Attends to Correspondence.

CLEVELAND, O., June 24.—Congressman James S. Sherman of Utica, N. Y., Republican vice presidential candidate, who was taken ill here last Sunday while on his way home from the Chicago convention, rested most comfortably today. Doctors Edward P. Carter and Dudley P. Allen and C. W. Stone were much pleased with the progress he has made today and are of the opinion that the necessity for an immediate operation has been passed. However, they advised Mr. Sherman to have the trouble removed as soon as he shall gain his normal health.

It is not expected Mr. Sherman will be able to leave the hospital before next Sunday. He attended to his correspondence today and during the afternoon sent a telegram of condolence to Mrs. Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, O., June 24.—At midnight, Mr. Sherman had slept three consecutive hours. His temperature was 100, pulse 80 and respiration 28. This reading showed an increase in respiration of four.

87 CHINESE ARRESTED.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Commissioner General of Immigration Sargent has recieved a report from Richard H. Taylor of the department of commerce and labor reporting that 87 Chinese, coming across the Mexican border into the United States, were arrested at El Paso between March 11 and June 17.

"PROGRESSIVES" RULE

IN CONTROL OF CONVENTION AT WATERLOO.

Iowa Republicans Hold Harmonious Meeting Allison's Re-election Favored.

WATERLOO, Ja., June 24.—While "Progressives" were in control of today's Republican convention, they did not bear down with any undue rigor on the standpatters. They adopted a state platform, giving enthusiastic indorsement to Governor Cummins, and the progressive legislation upon railroad and corporation questions, but they also gave warm indorsement to the services of the Iowa delegations and Congress, and especially to Senator W. B. Allison and a pledge for his re-election by the next legislature.

The "Progressives" secured control of the new state campaign committee, controlling it by a majority of one. The convention nominated Judges Scott M. Ladd and Silas M. Weaver to succeed themselves on the supreme bench and also went through the formality of approving the nomination for state officers made in recent primaries.

The convention gave loud applause to the mention of the name of Senator W. B. Allison and Senator Dolliver, and it gave a demonstration of some minutes when Governor Cummins responded to calls for a short speech. Governor Cummins spoke in good spirit and pledged himself to work for Republican success.

The platform adopted, in addition to commending legislation for two-cent fares, abolition of railroad passes, prohibiting corporation contributions to campaign funds and compelling publicity for campaign expenditures, pledges loyal support to Taft and Sherman and the national platform.

The convention also adopted a resolution with respect to the death of Grover Cleveland.

CLEVELAND DEAD; NATION MOURNS

FORMER PRESIDENT GOES TO HIS REWARD.

DEATH COMES UNEXPECTEDLY

HOPE FOR HIS RECOVERY WAS ENTERTAINED.

HEART FAILURE THE CAUSE

Messages of Condolence Received From All Parts of the World by Mrs. Cleveland—Funeral Will Be Held on Friday—Roosevelt Will Attend

PRINCETON, N. J., June 24.—Grover Cleveland, twice President of the United States, died at 8:40 o'clock this morning at his home, Westland, in this quiet college town where he had lived since his retirement as the nation's chief executive, almost 12 years ago.

When death came, which was sudden, there were in the death chamber on the second floor of the Cleveland residence, Mrs. Cleveland, Dr. Joseph D. Bryant of New York, Mr. Cleveland's family physician and personal friend; Dr. George L. Rockwood, also of New York, and Dr. John M. Carnochan of Princeton.

An official statement given out and signed by the three physicians gave heart trouble, superinduced by stomach and kidney ailments of long standing, as the cause of death.

While Mr. Cleveland had been in poor health for the last two years and lost 100 pounds in weight, his death came unexpectedly. Some three weeks ago he was brought home from Lakewood where his condition for a time was such that the hotel at which he was staying was kept open after its regular season because he was too ill to be moved. But when Mr. Cleveland was brought back to Princeton, he showed signs of improvement and actually gained five pounds in weight.

Signs of Heart Failure.

Although confined to his room continuously after his return to Princeton, it was not until yesterday that Mr. Cleveland's condition aroused uneasiness on the part of Mrs. Cleveland. Undoubtedly affected by the heat, Mr. Cleveland showed signs of heart failure and Mrs. Cleveland telephoned to Dr. Bryant, who came over from New York, arriving at 4:24 p. m. Dr. Lockwood followed Dr. Bryant from New York and when they reached here, Dr. Carnochan, who had been Mr. Cleveland's local physician since the former President came to Princeton, was also called in. During the evening, Mr. Cleveland seemed to rally, and Mrs. Cleveland who always has been optimistic about her husband's health felt assured that it was merely another of the many attacks Mr. Cleveland had suffered and she informed those who inquired that Mr. Cleveland's condition was not serious. Mr. Cleveland became worse during the night and Mrs. Cleveland was called to the bedside of her husband. The distinguished patient sank into unconsciousness, from which he recovered at times only to suffer a relapse. This continued through the night and early morning. The last time he became unconscious was about two hours before he died. Death was peaceful. Just before he died Mr. Cleveland sought to say

EX-PRESIDENT CLEVELAND,
Whose Sudden Death Yesterday Came as a Surprise to the American People, by Whom He Was Held in High Esteem.

something, but his words were inaudible.

Some two or three hours later, Dr. Bryant in answer to a question said that "the heart failure which occassioned death was induced within 24 hours of the death and death was finally due to that," thus corrobating the

ENCOMIUMS FOR DEAD

CLEVELAND WAS PURE-HEARTED PATRIOT.

His Law Partner Recites Telling Incident—Roger Sullivan Calls Him Nation's Greatest Citizen.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Francis Stetson, who was associated with the former President Cleveland in the practice of law, said today:

"Were I asked for the quality which more conspicuously than many others, entitled him to the love and regard of his countrymen, I should say that Grover Cleveland was the purest-hearted patriot that I have ever known."

Mr. Stetson then pointed out that the room in which he was sitting was once Mr. Cleveland's office.

"It was in this room," he said, "that one of the most characteristic instances in Cleveland's career took place. The day before the big antifree-silver meeting in Cooper Union (I forget the date) a gentleman of great influence, who now lives in this city, came to him to discuss the situation. Both were strongly opposed to the free-silver movement and the talk naturally turned in that direction.

"Mr. Cleveland had an engagement, but for some reason could not go. 'Are you going to send a letter,' asked the gentleman.

"'What do you think about it,' asked Mr. Cleveland.

"'I should not,' said the gentleman in reply, 'I regard such a step as needless. Your position is well known. Nothing you can say at this time will put you more upon record, and I think it might cause needless embarrassment to your friends, if you were to take any part in the meeting, either your presence or a letter.'

"Mr. Cleveland said nothing in reply for a time. Then, taking off his glasses, he turned around and looked this gentleman straight in the eyes.

Took Firm Stand.

"'I am a citizen of the United States,' Mr. Cleveland said to him. 'I am a citizen of the state of New York, and city of New York. Naturally, I ought to take the part of a citizen in the affairs of the city and especially on a matter which is of so deep an import. I deem it my duty as a citizen to do so. I regard the expression of an opinion in a matter of so great importance as this, of more importance than personal matters. It is said that I ought not to go there, nor to write a letter of any sort upon this matter of supreme importance because it might embarrass my nomination. I am going to write a letter, to be read at that meeting, and the presidency can go to h——.'

"Mr. Cleveland did write. His letter is history. In outspoken, and burning words he stated his position upon the silver movement. He said then, as he has believed since, that 'free coinage of silver was wrong and dangerous.' Nobody has forgotten it."

Roger Sullivan Talks.

DENVER, June 24.—Speaking of the death of former President Cleveland, Roger C. Sullivan, Democratic national committeeman for Illinois, and chairman of the committee which is preparing for the next convention, said today:

"In Mr. Cleveland, the nation lost its greatest citizen, the Democratic party one of its truest leaders, and many of us a personal friend."

Governor John E. Osborne, national committeeman from Wyoming, said:

"A man whose honesty, sincerity of purpose and courage no one can question. Mr. Cleveland's name will go

TO BEGIN WORK SOON

WOODMEN HAVE PLANS FOR SANATORIUM.

Will Increase Subscriptions to $100,000 and Raise $130,000 Annually for Maintenance.

Work on the main building at the Modern Woodman sanatorium will start within the next two months. Prospective plans for the entire site, including a beautiful landscape effect, the erection of several permanent buildings, the construction of a permanent water system, the provision for the location of hundreds of the modern sanitary tents, and the general improvement of the 1,000-acre site on a large scheme, have been submitted to the executive board, and action is to be taken shortly.

E. E. Murphy, treasurer of the sanatorium fund, is to arrive in Colorado Springs on July 2 to spend the summer here with his family and to have charge of the initial steps in carrying out the plans for the sanatorium. Head Consul A. R. Talbot will reach Colorado Springs shortly and all the members of the executive committee will make a visit here in the interests of the new sanatorium.

More than $55,000 has already been subscribed, and the additional call for funds will raise the amount to more than $100,000. An annual maintenance fund of more than $130,000 will be provided by the 10-cent annual assessment levied at the head camp session in Peoria.

These are the significant announcements made yesterday by H. C. Henderson, secretary of Colorado Springs camp No. 7726, M. W. of A., upon his return yesterday from the head camp, which has just closed its sessions at Peoria, Ill. A number of the Colorado Springs delegation returned yesterday, while others will remain in the east for several days yet.

"The head camp meeting formally indorsed the action of the executive board in establishing the sanatorium here. The action was unanimous, and this is the positive assurance that there will be no further delay in the beginning of active work," said Mr.

CANDIDATES FOR SECOND PLACE

MASSACHUSETTS MAN IS FAVORED BY COLORADOANS.

GRANT IS OUT OF THE RACE

SON OF FAMOUS GENERAL HAS CAPITULATED.

BOOM "FLASHED IN THE PAN"

Some Talk Is Heard of Grant as Vice Presidential Possibility, but It Is Believed by Many That His Name Will Not Be Mentioned in Convention.

DENVER, June 24.—Since there is little room for doubt as to the head of the Democratic national ticket to be named here next month, interest naturally centers in the selection of a candidate for second place. Those prominently mentioned as aspirants are:

Martin J. O'Brien, ex-chief justice of the New York supreme court.

Benjamin F. Shively, congressman from Indiana.

Tom L. Johnson of Ohio.

William L. Douglas of Massachusetts.

Senator Charles Culberson of Texas.

For chairman of national committee:

George Fred Williams of Massachusetts.

Norman E. Mack of New York.

Mayor J. C. Dahlman of Omaha.

William L. Douglas, the Massachusetts shoe man, is favored, personally, by some of the Colorado delegation, for Bryan's running mate. No conference has yet been held by the delegation from this state, and the only action taken has been the selection of Charles J. Hughes, Jr., for chairman. Friends of the Bay state man urge that he could carry that Republican stronghold, and that his name would be sufficient to make inroads in New England on the Taft normal following, especially among the laboring class.

"We'll fight it out on this line if it takes all summer."

The famous utterance of Gen. U. S. Grant, which stirred the country more than 40 years ago, is not taken by the son to mean a Democratic convention and a battle for a presidential nomination in this year of grace, 1908.

Grant Has Capitulated.

Jesse R. Grant of California and New York has in a sense capitulated. He has left Denver and announces that he does not expect to return until after the convention.

He had a boom prepared, but to use his own expression, it "flashed in the pan," and was dissipated "in the bright light of the Bryan sun."

There is some talk of Grant as a vice presidential possibility, but the son of a famous father appears to have had enough of this kind of a fight, and it is not likely his name will be mentioned in the convention with any nomination.

Plentiful as is the crop of favorite song pushed forward for the vice presidential nomination, no word of preferance has come from the sage of Lincoln, who will probably, in the end, select the man.

Lewis is New Boom.

A brand new boom is that of J. Hamilton Lewis, once of Washington state, now of Chicago, the sponsor for whom is no less a personage than Roger C. Sullivan, national committeeman from Illinois.

Delegates now in town do not appear to regard the Honorable Ham as seriously as he does himself, nor was there any perceptible jar in political circles when it became known today that he was one of a long and more or less interesting class of entries who emerge every four years, and then suddenly retire to the seclusion which they profess to enjoy, even if they do not always adorn.

"We have talked very little about the vice presidential timber, but you may say that I am personally very friendly to Mr. Lewis and that he has many friends in our delegation," was the response which Roje Sullivan, chairman of the Illinois delegation, made to an inquiry as to Lewis this morning.

F. T. Sullivan, a cousin of the Illinois boss, was talking Lewis about the hotel lobbies this morning, and by Illinois people near Sullivan the name of Lewis is being pushed at every opportunity.

Mack Regarded Seriously.

Other booms, which are regarded more seriously are those for Norman E. Mack, the newspaper publisher of Buffalo, N. Y., and who is now on his way to Denver to attend the meeting.

HART WILL IN COURTS

ADOPTED DAUGHTER OF MILLIONAIRE DISINHERITED.

Young Woman, Now Wife of Noted Frenchman, Will Contest the Document.

PARIS, June 24.—The death here, in May, of Benjamin Hart, millionaire American, who resided in Paris almost continuously for the past 25 years, has uncovered a romance which promised to have a court sequel in a suit brought by the adopted daughter whom Mr. Hart disinherited in his will. Hart was a Virginian by birth, but he was well known in New York, where he lived for many years and where he amassed a large fortune during the Civil war. He was married while he lived in America, but later was divorced.

As there were no children born to them, Mr. Hart, during one of his visits to Paris, became interested in a pretty three-year-old child, Isabel Luchesi, and arranged with the parents to adopt her. The little girl was tenderly cared by Hart after the divorce from his wife and every care was bestowed upon her education and training. In 1892, when Isabel was 17 years old, Hart formally adopted her in New York under the laws of that state. At this time he was constructing a magnificent residence in the Rue Galilee and moved in the highest American and foreign circles in Paris. The adopted daughter about this time contracted a marriage with a distinguished young French diplomat, Jean Guillemin, a brother of the Countess of Montebello, and who is now counsellor of the French embassy at Vienna. Guillemin is well known in America, where he was dispatched by M. Delcasse upon two missions.

After the residence in the Rue Galilee had been luxuriously furnished for occupancy, Hart formed an alliance with a Madame De Bie, and installed her as the mistress of the house. Naturally his friends were shocked and began to drop him. It is averred that Madame De Bie conceived a violent hatred for the daugh-

WITH HIM IN HARD CAMPAIGN

Says Former Chief Executive Did More for Civil Service Reform Than Any Preceding Occupant of White House. Was Economical.

Among the guests at the Antlers hotel is Robert L. O'Brien of Boston, now waiting for the Denver convention, who 16 years ago was the personal stenographer of Grover Cleveland during the memorable campaign of 1892. Afterwards Mr. O'Brien became executive clerk of the White House, a position which he resigned in November, 1895, to re-enter newspaper work. Mr. George B. Cortelyou, then a stenographer in the postoffice department, was the man selected to take his place.

When seen at the hotel last evening, and asked for his recollections of Mr. Cleveland, and for some estimate of his personality, Mr. O'Brien said:

"Just after the convention of 1892 at Chicago, when Mr. Cleveland had for a third time been nominated for the presidency, letters began to pour in upon him by the bushel. He was at his summer home at Buzzards Bay, where indeed he had heard over private wire the news from the convention hall. He wanted some clerical assistance, and through a friend of whom he made inquiries, I went to Buzzards Bay, and there saw him for the first time.

Was Rapid Worker.

"We went to work at once. A small summer house on the grounds had been made into an office, and had been equipped with two desks, one for him and the other containing a typewriter, for me. There we went to work on the accumulated mass of letters, he dictating answers to them with great vigor and considerable rapidity, well into the night, particularly after those days when he had been out fishing with 'Joe' Jefferson or other friends. I afterwards went to New York with him several times, notably when he went there to receive the notification of his nomination at the Madison Square Garden in the presence of 20,000 people. Adlai Stevenson came on for the occasion, making Mr. Cleveland a visit at Buzzards Bay for several days preceding it.

"Mr. Cleveland was a man of marvelous simplicity and sincerity. He loved in straight lines. He abhorred evasiveness or pretentiousness of every form. When he spoke at all, in public or in private, he did so with frankness and directness. His greatest contribution to the history of his country, as I

RACE WILL BE CLOSE

NORTH DAKOTA SENATORSHIP CONTEST EXCITING.

Meager Returns From Republican Primaries Show Little and Marshall in Lead.

ST. PAUL, June 24.—A special to the Pioneer Press from Fargo, N. D., says that returns thus far received on the Republican primaries indicate that Senator Hansbrough, M. N. Johnson, C. B. Little and Congressman Thomas P. Marshall are running close in the race for United States senator and that the result will be in doubt until the returns are all in.

No candidate will have the required 40 per cent of the vote necessary for nomination and the names of the two leading candidates will go on the ballot for the November election.

Returns thus far received indicate the defeat of Senator Hansbrough, and that Little, Stalwart, and Marshall, Insurgent, will be the two high men.

Returns from 139 precincts in different parts of the state give Hansbrough 2,314, Johnson 2,346, Little 2,175, and Marshall, 2,687.

C. A. Johnson, Stalwart, has defeated Treadwell T. Mitchell, Insurgent, for governor. Indications are that the entire Stalwart state ticket has been nominated except Burleigh F. Spalding, who has possibly been defeated by Edward H. Wright for justice of the supreme court, and Walter L. Stockwell, who has possibly been defeated by Fred E. Smith for superintendent of public instruction. A. J. Gronna and L. B. Hanna have been nominated for Congress. Both are Stalwarts. Gronna is now a member of Congress.

EUROPEANS IN DANGER

SITUATION AT TEHERAN GROWING MORE SERIOUS.

Bombardment Continues Unabated. State of Siege Has Been Proclaimed.

BERLIN, June 24.—A special from Teheran, dated Wednesday, midnight, says:

The bombardment here today lasted for an hour and a half. As was the case yesterday, bombs were thrown and the cossack artillery brought up two guns and fired upon the buildings at close range. The house of Zahir-Ed-Dowle is in ruins, the interior being entirely demolished. Looters who entered the house after the bombardment smashed everything they saw.

Hundreds of windows in the European quarter were splintered, owing to the concussion resulting from the firing. The Persian soldiers were participants in the plundering and the storming of houses, the object of which, in many cases, was simply to give an excuse for looting. The soldiers were permitted to load their booty on the gun carriages and thus transport it to their camp. Everywhere throughout the city the mobs were fighting over the plunder and the cossacks had the hardest task to drive them out of the streets. Eventually the cossacks succeeded in this and toward evening, when quiet had been partially restored, the shah ordered the besieged to reopen, otherwise they would be bombarded.

The heat here is terrific and the air stagnated. Many horses are still lying in front of the parliament. The diplomatic corps announces that a state of siege has been proclaimed. The situation is serious, for, although the people hitherto have respected Europeans, it is feared that lives of foreigners will not be safe for long. Doubtless further bombardment will [illegible] Many of the refugees have [illegible] legation.

CAUSES DEEP SORROW

DEATH OF CLEVELAND MENTIONED AT NEW HAVEN.

Casts Shade of Gloom Over Commencement Exercises of Yale. Meeting Postponed.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 24.—News of the death of ex-President Grover Cleveland today threw into a shade of genuine sorrow the commencement exercises at Yale.

Secretary William H. Taft was informed of the demise of Mr. Cleveland as the procession of the officials of the university, the faculty and the graduates, was forming to march to Woolsey hall, in which the commencement exercises were held. He expressed his deep regret at Mr. Cleveland's death, and said:

"President Cleveland was one of the very great men of the country. His death is a distinct loss to the American people."

Later, at the commencement dinner, the secretary paid a beautiful and eloquent tribute to Mr. Cleveland.

Subcommittee Meeting Postponed.

After the conclusion of the commencement exercises, Secretary Taft announced that, on account of the continued illness of James S. Sherman, his running mate on the republican ticket, he had decided to postpone for one week the calling of the meeting of the sub-committee of the national committee, which was appointed to [illegible] conference to select a chairman, meeting [illegible] to have been held in Washington July 1. By [illegible] Taft's decision, it will not be held until July 8, in Washington. FLAGS AT HALF STAFF

MEMORY OF CLEVELAND HONORED IN WASHINGTON.

Guns Will Be Fired by Both Army and Navy on the Day of Former President's Funeral.

The White House, June 24, 1908.

To the People of the United States:

Grover Cleveland, President of the United States from 1885 to 1889 and again from 1893 to 1897, died at 8:40 o'clock this morning at his home in Princeton, New Jersey. In his death the nation has been deprived of one of its greatest citizens. By profession a lawyer, his chief services to his country were rendered during a long, varied and honorable career in public life.

As mayor of his city, as governor of his state, and twice as President, he showed signal power as an administrator, coupled with entire devotion to the country's good and a courage that quailed before no hostility when once he was convinced where his duty lay. Since his retirement from the presidency he has continued well and faithfully to serve his countrymen by the simplicity, dignity and uprightness of his private life.

In testimony of the respect in which his memory is held by the government and people of the United States, I do hereby direct that the flags on the White House and the several departmental buildings be displayed at half staff for a period of 30 days; and that suitable military and naval honors, under the orders of the secretaries of war and navy, be rendered on the day of the funeral.

Done this twenty-fourth day of June, in the year of our Lord 1908, and of the Independence of the United States view it, lies in the sanction of time which he was the means of giving to the merit system, without which we could not as a nation do business today.

Established Merit System.

"When he first became President it was a new thing, and it was the custom of people to sneer at it. Had the new Democratic President who came into power in 1885 held this view, and had he made opposition to the merit system a Democratic issue, the cause would have been put back for a generation. Republicans, when they returned to power, would have said that if it was a Democratic policy to turn out opponents, they would make it Republican policy to reverse the process, and the country would have been years in getting into any practical working arrangement for doing public business on a business basis. Of course, there was a considerable overturn of offices in 1885, as there always will be when party control changes, but viewed in its larger aspects, Mr. Cleveland believed in the merit system, and lent the influence of his administration to it, with the result that now a generation of living men have become accustomed, in the clerical force of the great government bureaus, to the new order. It would take a very nervy individual in the presidential office today to order a halt and about-face toward a spoils debauch.

"In the scientific bureaus, Mr. Cleveland made few or no changes. Plenty of Democrats stood ready to take every such place. There was Carroll D. Wright, commissioner of labor, a lifelong Republican. His scalp would have been gratefully hung to many a Democratic belt, but the opportunity never came. So it was with William T. Harris, commissioner of education, and scores of men similarly situated. Wherever an officer was doing important work, in a broad, intelligent way, Mr. Cleveland wanted to know some better reason for displacing him than that some Democrat wanted the job. Mr. Cleveland stood up against the greatest kind of pressure, in this and other respects, and never budged an inch.

Administered Economically.

"The government was run economically in Mr. Cleveland's time. He held to the old-fashioned idea that that government was best which governed least. I often contrast the change which has come over the White House establishment alone since that day. Now, I suppose there are 15 clerks in the large room on the west side of the new office building, besides several telegraphers, a telephone central and a corps of messengers, in addition to doorkeepers and other attendants. No longer ago than 1893 the President's official force consisted of his private secretary, the late Henry T. Thurber of Detroit; his assistant, O. L. Pruden, who always carried the messages to the Senate; William H. Crook and myself as executive clerks; Warren Young, a writing clerk, and Benjamin F. Montgomery, a telegrapher. Mr. Pruden had come there in Grant's day; Colonel Crook had been a policeman on the grounds under Lincoln, and had gradually worked into clerical service. Mr. Young had been known before the country as the man who made public the bulletins on Garfield's condition during his memorable illness in the summer of 1881. He had been an old neighbor of Garfield's in Ohio. Mr. Montgomery had come in from the south, having been connected with both federal and confederate armies, but detailed as a telegrapher to the White House in one of the earlier Republican administrations. Thus the small force of that day represented a series of past administrations, each President having brought some sort of a clerical helper with him, who stayed in the White House. They all liked Mr. Cleveland, and it was an exceedingly happy little family that attended to the mail, prepared the public papers, and issued the White House invitations, in the simpler days of the second Cleveland administration.

Good Word for F. E. Brooks.

Mr. O'Brien, who is connected with the Boston Transcript, as he was before entering Mr. Cleveland's service in 1892, is accompanied in Colorado Springs by Mr. Solomon B. Griffin, the managing editor of the Springfield Republican. They are preparing to make a little Colorado trip, perhaps going as far as the Mesa Verde. Mr. O'Brien added that Colorado Springs has, in his judgment, furnished an exceedingly effective congressman in recent years in the person of Franklin E. Brooks, whose work was followed hardly less closely in the east than in the west. Mr. O'Brien was in Washington during Brooks' two terms of office, and asserts that the Coloradoan's place in the House, for a comparatively new member, was conspicuously brilliant.

A STORY OF IBSEN.

Blumenthal, the great theater manager of Berlin, was once talking with Tolstoi about Ibsen and said: "I have put a good many of his plays on the stage, but I can't say that I quite understand them. Do you understand them?" "Ibsen doesn't understand them himself," Tolstoi replied. "He just writes them and then sits down and waits. After a while his expounders and explainers corner and tell him what he meant."

Henderson yesterday. The last report shows that the response to the first appeal brought in more than $55,000. Another appeal for contributions has been made, and as a result the fund will be increased to more than $100,000. The 10-cent per capita per annum, levied at Peoria, will provide a sufficient maintenance fund. Head Consul Talbot announced the membership of the order as 1,327,000.

The government of the new sanatorium is placed in the hands of the executive committee, composed of: Head Consul Talbot, Head Clerk C. W. Hawes, E. E. Murphy, Leavenworth, Kan.; Robert R. Smith, Brookfield, Mo.; Dr. J. A. Rutledge, Elgin, Ill.; A. N. Bort, Beloit, Wis., and C. J. Byrns, Ishpeming, Mich. J. F. Sanford of this city was chairman of the sanatorium committee during the meeting of the head camp.

Colorado Springs received a great deal of advertising at the meeting. A big banner, "Here's to the Health of the Modern Woodmen—Colorado Springs, the City of Sunshine," was stretched across the convention hall. The local delegation, numbering 40, was strongly represented on all occasions. The fact that the sanatorium is to be erected here was in itself a big advertisement for the city. Dr. A. F. McKay delivered a number of well-attended lectures, while Dr. J. E. White also spoke to the Woodmen on tuberculosis.

of the committee of arrangements on Saturday. Then there is a favorite son, W. G. Conrad, born in the Shenandoah valley in Virginia and now the head of a number of banks in Montana, reputed to be worth $10,000,000 or more. The latest acquisition is John Mitchell, head of the United Mine Workers.

And, of course, there is much talk of Gov. John A. Johnson of Minnesota, and Governor Folk, and some people are wondering whether Judge George Gray could be prevailed upon.

It is conceded that both platform and running mate rest with the undoubted nominee, the Nebraskan.

grams to each member of the committee, notifying him of the change in the date of the conference.

"Mr. Sherman," said Secretary Taft, "is anxious to be present at the conference, and it now seems likely that he will be unable physically to be in Washington next Wednesday. It is desirable, therefore, that the conference be postponed."

At the alumni dinner Secretary Taft delivered the second of his scheduled addresses for the week. He made only a casual reference to politics in his speech, that being when he begged to advise the youngest alumni of Yale that the term "Democratic" is a "mere historical description." To what was regarded as a significant extent, he outlined his own position when he said he had come to Yale to be filled with Yale spirit, which was "the spirit of progressiveness without the spirit of destructiveness."

Assist in Receiving Guests.

Late in the day he and Mrs. Taft assisted President and Mrs. Hadley in receiving the guests at the President's annual reception.

Tonight Secretary and Mrs. Taft were guests of honor at a dinner party given by their host, Mrs. W. W. Farnam.

Today the secretary telegraphed Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, chief of the bureau of insular affairs of the war department, to meet him at the Manhattan hotel in New York, Saturday morning, to join him and Gen. Luke E. Wright, his successor-to-be, in their visit to President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay.

CLOCK WEIGHS SIX TONS.

Jersey City will soon enjoy the distinction of having the largest clock in the world. Then Philadelphia's big dial and the huge face of Big Ben in London will fade into insignificance. In moving the minute hand from the factory in Connecticut an entire flat car had to be used. This hand is eighteen and a quarter feet in length, and with its counterpoise weighs one-third of a ton. It will travel twenty-three inches a minute, or more than half a mile a day. The diameter of the dial is twenty-eight feet, as compared with the twenty-five-foot diameter of the Philadelphia clock or the twenty-two and a half feet of the Westminster clock. The weight that moves the hand weighs 2,000 pounds, and the total weight of this monster timepiece approximates six tons.

ORIGIN OF SKAT.

Skat, which has become the rival of bridge, and has displaced it in some circles, is, according to a writer in the Revue, a purely German game and Altenburg is its home. The earliest records on the subject show that it was evolved out of other card games in 1817 by one Hempel, who was a professor at the Altenburg college. The article is illustrated with a picture of C. W. Allers, showing Adolf L'Arronge, Paul Lindau, August Forster and Gustav Kadelburg playing skat in Paul Lindau's library.

MEN'S HATS ARE FAULTY

The size, the style, and, incidentally, the cost of women's hats, says a writer in the Berliner Umschau, have taken up so much of the time of the people who make hats a study that they have not had a moment to devote to the head covering of the sterner sex. Considered from the hygienic point of view, little fault can be found with the hats of our sisters, although some of them, when viewed through the glass of reason, are unthinkable. But men's hats are faulty from the physician's point of view, and a wider knowledge of the defects of the modern army of bareheaded men. In order to demonstrate which hats should be avoided a perfectly healthy man was placed where the rays of the sun could strike him directly. He wore while taking the sunbaths various kinds of hats for a period of 15 minutes each. Every hat contained in the crown a thermometer, and these recorded as follows: The one in the Panama hat, 71 degrees; the straw "sailor," 81; the silk hat, 59; the felt hat, 85, and the black felt and yachting cap, 99 and 101 degrees, respectively.

SENATORS NOT CHUMMY.

United States senators often become very good friends, but somehow they are not prone to becoming real chummy with one another. Exceptions occur from time to time to prove the rule. One of those exceptions applies to Senator Philander C. Knox of Pennsylvania and Senator W. Murray Crane of Massachusetts. If the afternoon wanes without their meeting, one is very likely to start out to see where the other is and to learn what has happened.

FLAGS AT HALF STAFF

of America, the one hundred and thirty-second.

(Signed) THEODORE ROOSEVELT.
By the President: Alvey A. Adee, Acting Secretary of State.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Appropriate honors will be paid to the memory of ex-President Cleveland, by all branches of the government. Upon the receipt today, of the President's proclamation, formally announcing Mr. Cleveland's death, steps were taken to carry out the provisions of the executive proclamation. In the case of the state department, all officials of the diplomatic and consular service will be notified of the ex-President's death and will be directed to fly the American flag over their respective offices, at half staff, for a period of 30 days after the receipt of the letter. Today, all army posts and stations and all commanders-in-chief of fleets in the navy; captains of detached ships and navy yards and naval stations were ordered to fly the national colors at half mast for 30 days.

In the army and the navy, today's orders will be followed by more formal orders tomorrow, directing what shall be done on the day of the funeral prescribing the number of guns to be fired, etc. The flags on the executive departments were today placed at half mast, as were also the national emblems on the buildings occupied by the district government.

The White House and many officials received their first news through the Associated Press. Many forceful tributes were paid to the memory of the late ex-President, by persons who have been more or less associated with him and by those who had succeeded to the cabinet councils of his regime. Among them were Secretary Cortelyou, who, as confidential stenographer to the President during the closing days of the last Cleveland administration had an intimate association with Mr. Cleveland.

Two members of the Cleveland cabinet who have homes in this city were away when the news came. Former Secretary of the Treasury John L. Carlisle, had barely got away from the city, having left on the 8 a. m. train on the Pennsylvania railroad for New York on business and news of the death of his former chief reached Mr. Carlisle's home too late. Former Secretary of the Navy Hillary A. Herbert is spending his vacation at Carlin, in Ontario Province, and the news was telegraphed to him by his law partner Benjamin McCou of this city. It is likely that both Mr. Carlisle and Mr. Herbert will make arrangements to go to Princeton.

Alva A. Adee, second assistant secretary of state, is one of the prominent officials in Washington who was in office during ex-President Cleveland's administration. Mr. Adee received his commission from President Cleveland, and there was a strong personal friendship between them. Mr. Adee paid a high tribute to the former President's personal traits and to his great mastery of detail.

THAW LIVING IN LUXURY

At Matteawan He May Imagine Himself in the Tyrol, but Does He?

From the New York Globe.

Harry Thaw in passing through the grand entrance to Matteawan might easily imagine that he had exchanged the grim old Tombs for the schloss in the Tyrol in which he once dwelt with Evelyn Nesbit.

The peaks of the spurs of the Catskills are all around the plateau on which stands the asylum, with its tall red towers and pointed gables, to remind him of the Alps. And he may find Alpine grandeur in the scarred sides of Mount Beacon, from which the sunlight is flashed on the windows, and away beyond, where the eye catches glimpses of the Hudson among the crags, the grand old storm king sets his shoulders against the sky. The building may be castle, palace or mansion, but never prison.

There is nothing in this institution in which so many criminal insane are confined, to indicate that it is really a prison, and in the portion set apart for the class to which Thaw belongs there is nothing to suggest anything but some country house or an elegant family hotel. The inmate's friends, wife or mother or other relatives may sit with him hours at a time in a handsomely decorated loggia, with floor of little reddish-colored tiles, painted walls and carved ceiling of southern pine, in light oak finish. From the curtained windows they may feast their eyes on all the rugged grandeur of this section of Dutchess county.

The day room is officially "Ward No. 1 North," but how inappropriate somehow is the word "ward," for here is quite a superb sitting or lounging room, with its oak ceiling and supporting pillars and polished floors and divans and walls covered with pictures and windows filled with potted plants and trailing vines.

Here the inmate may play whist or any other game to his fancy, and he will find men willing to devote the entire day to cards. There is no hint of the prison or public institution of any kind in the asylum—no keeper in sight, or if he is he is not to be distinguished, and every man wears his own clothes and dresses to suit his fancy.

One man, indeed, changes his clothes every hour, and persists in wearing silk hat and gloves and carrying a cane while he walks up and down, as if he were on Fifth avenue.

Among the men whom Thaw will find around him is Quimbo Appo, an old Chinaman, the father of George Appo, and who takes a delight in declaiming that he is a great general with an army of 75,000,000 men camped at Newburg and 45,000,000 at New York, ready to destroy the world because of its lack of wisdom. Oliver Curtis Perry, the train robber, is another of the distinguished inmates, and still another is George Roth, who tried to kill the late Rev. Dr. John Hall.

One comfort only is denied the loungers in "Ward No. 1 North," and that is smoking. Chewing tobacco is supplied, but even the first-class men will not be trusted with matches or any other thing by which fire might be started.

The inmates take their meals in a refectory, looking much as one might find in some college, with some 500 patients or prisoners seated at [illegible] tables, on which are plates, bowls and spoons, but neither knives nor forks. These are allowed only to a few, to whose number, however, Harry Thaw may be added.

If the inmate wishes for a time to lead the simple life he may breakfast on oatmeal, bread, butter and coffee; dine on roast or boiled beef, bread, potatoes and vegetables, and he may have for supper bread and butter and tea and fruit. On the other hand, however, he may indulge in all the luxuries his money can purchase.

Wines? Not under the regular rules of the establishment, but a doctor's prescription will enable him to have the choicest vintage.

When he retires for the night a man may rest on mattresses as comfortable as desired in these scientific days, and his bedstead will be of iron painted white. He may sleep in the big dormitory off the "Ward No. 1 North," or he may sleep alone in a small bedroom of the hallroom type and size.

Nine o'clock is the hour for retiring, when all lights are put out, and at 6 o'clock each morning the bells call the sleepers to breakfast, which is served half an hour later. And as bathrooms, fitted with everything modern, are a-plenty, the inmate may have his cold plunge or shower with as little trouble as if he were in one of the finest hotels.

After breakfast, the patient may do as he pleases, amuse himself indoors with cards or outdoors in the "airing court" with baseball, handball or tennis. And if he so desires he may have a little golf among the foothills.

And then it must not be forgotten that there is a dainty opera house in the build in which almost nightly he will be kept in touch with the great white way. Seldom a day passes that a company on the road can not be caught at Fishkill Landing.

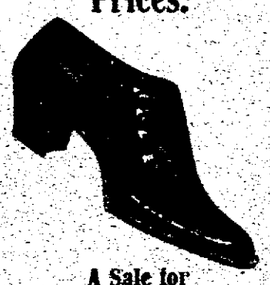

MAY BE MANUEL'S BRIDE.

Lady Alexandra Duff, the 17-year-old granddaughter of King Edward, and daughter of the princess royal and the Duke of Fife, may sit on the throne of Portugal. It will be a perilous position for her unless affairs simmer down in that little kingdom, but an English princess as bride for King Manuel seems to be the only solution of Portugal's troubles.

HART WILL IN COURT

ter because the latter refused to recognize her position in the Hart household. At any rate, when Mr. Hart died it was found that he had left a will specifically disinheriting the daughter and bequeathing all his property, which amounted to several millions of dollars, principally personal property in America, to Madame De Ble. Madam Guillemin has instructed her lawyer, Donald Harper, to bring suit to break the will on the ground of undue influence. The document will also be contested as it was drafted in accordance with the New York law, whereas, it is claimed, Hart was domiciled in France.

Mr. Hart's will will come up for probate before the surrogate of New York on July 30.

NEW YORK, June 24.—The readjustment committee on the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company decided at a meeting today to aid in the confirmation of the plan of the merchandise creditors for a refinancing of the company. The committee will issue circulars explaining the plan and will meet again on Friday to take final action.

unofficial information that Mr. Cleveland began to grow worse yesterday afternoon.

His Virtues Extolled

The news of Mr. Cleveland's death came as a sudden shock to the people of Princeton, as it did to the people of the rest of the world. Everybody in Princeton knew he was sick and was interested in him, but none seemed to think the end was so near. As the news spread about the university flags were placed at half staff and everybody was disposed to stop and talk and express regrets and extol Mr. Cleveland's virtues.

It was not until late in the day that messages of condolence began to come in from all parts of the world to Mrs. Cleveland.

One of the first was from President Roosevelt, who will attend the funeral which will be held on Friday afternoon and which, in deference to Mrs. Cleveland's wishes, will be as private as possible.

Mr. Cleveland's body will be buried in Princeton cemetery in the family plot, where lies the remains of Ruth, the eldest of the Cleveland children, whose death was a sad blow to her father.

Mrs. Cleveland denied herself to all but a few callers. Prof. Andrew Fleming West, Prof. John Hibben of Princeton university, and Bayard Stockton, a Princeton lawyer and a member of the famous Stockton family, were at the house all day and were in charge of all arrangements.

Sympathy Extended.

Among those who came here today to extend personally their sympathy was Cleveland F. Bacon of New York, nephew of Mr. Cleveland. Mr. Bacon is the son of Mr. Cleveland's sister, Mrs. M. B. Bacon of Toledo, O. He came here in response to a telegram and is assisting Mrs. Cleveland in the funeral arrangements. Others who came to Princeton were Paul Morton, president of the Equitable Life Assurance society, of which Mr. Cleveland was a trustee, and Richard Watson Gilder of New York. Mr. Morton returned to New York in less than one hour after his arrival here. He came to Princeton for the sole purpose of extending his sympathy to Mrs. Cleveland and to tender his services.

So unexpectedly did Mr. Cleveland's death occur that not one of his four children was at home. The children are at the Cleveland summer home at Tamsworth, N. H., under the care of Mrs. Perrine, Mrs. Cleveland's mother. Word was sent to them of their father's death, and they will start for Princeton at once. Esther, aged 14; Marion, 12; Richard, aged 10 and Francis Grover, aged 5 are the children. Ever since Mr. Cleveland's arrival in Princeton, 11 years ago, he has been a conspicuous figure in local life. Although his only official connection with the Princeton university was his lectureship on public affairs and membership on the board of trustees, he was regarded as a strong friend of the institution. As a member of the board of trustees his counsel and astuteness were invaluable. The last trustee meeting which he attended was October 17. He walked from a carriage to the trustee room, leaning on a heavy cane. This was an important meeting of the board and Mr. Cleveland is said to have taken an influential part in the discussions.

Was Well Liked.

Mr. Cleveland was well liked among the students and faculty. His last appearance in the university was while delivering a public lecture about two years ago. On the last Friday of the college year it has been the custom of the freshmen class on becoming sophomores to serenade him at his home. On June 5 of this year "the freshman parade" was held, but owing to Mr. Cleveland's illness the parade did not serenade the Cleveland home. Last year on this occasion Mr. Cleveland stood on the veranda of his home and spoke for a few moments to the assembled collegians.

Princeton university is closed now. Except for half a dozen students who are doing special work there are none but the professors here who are connected with the university.

Telegrams of Condolence

Telegrams of condolence came in by the hundreds from all parts of the United States and other countries during the day.

Mayor McClellan, Gov. Hoke Smith of Georgia, George B. Cortelyou, secretary of the treasury, C. S. Fairchild, who was secretary of the treasury during Mr. Cleveland's administration, United States Senator James Smith of New Jersey and [illegible] A. L. Ha[illegible] of Ohio were among [illegible] who [illegible] telegrams [illegible].

Mr. Cleveland was selected [illegible] for as a [illegible] after leaving the White House was due [illegible] the visit of the ex-President [illegible] ber of 1896. The Clevelands were so graciously received and were so impressed with the beauty of the town and its surroundings that they at once decided to make Princeton their future home. Until Mr. Cleveland's health began to fail him [illegible] years ago he continued to be a [illegible] man. His diversions in Princeton were daily carriage rides and an occasional fishing or gunning trip.

down in history as one of our greatest Presidents.

Colonel John I. Martin, sergeant-at-arms the Democratic national convention, lost a personal friend of a quarter of a century in Mr. Cleveland, of whom he said: "When the history of the republic is written and the record of all its great statesmen and Presidents from Washington down is completed, the pages dealing with the career of Grover Cleveland will show that in many respects, he was equal to the best."

There was an intimation today that out of respect to Mr. Cleveland's memory, the Democratic convention will be asked to adjourn for a day immediately after convening.

Bryan Pays Tribute.

LINCOLN, Neb., June 24.—The following tribute to Mr. Grover Cleveland was written this evening by William J. Bryan and will appear in next week's issue of his paper:

"The death of ex-President Grover Cleveland brings to a sudden end the phenomenal career of one of the strongest characters known to the present world during the present generation. Like every commanding figure he had zealous supporters and earnest opponents, but those who differed from him were as ready as his warmest friends to concede to him the possession of elements of leadership to an extraordinary degree. He was deliberate in action, firm in conviction, and ever ready to accept responsibility for what he did. Few men have exerted a more positive influence upon those associated with them. We are not far enough from the period in which his work occurred, to measure accurately his place in history, but the qualities which made him great are a part of the nation's heritage, and universal sorrow is felt in his death."

MADISON, Wis., June 24.—Col. William F. Vilas, former United States senator and member of President Cleveland's cabinet, when informed of Mr. Cleveland's death said:

"Notwithstanding his feeble condition was generally known, his recent seeming improvement had dissipated the imminence of apprehension and the news of Mr. Cleveland's death fell as a stunning blow. Its unexpected suddenness deprives us of present power to deal with the memories it awakens. For myself, I dare attempt but small expression of the thoughts that arise in me. Passing time has already done much and now will do more to clear away the clouds of contemporary differences and leave his lofty character, his great powers and his eminent service to his country in the undimmed splendor by which history will display them."

The lovely young creature who is built about a bone has at least come into her own.

SLEEVELESS COATS A PRONOUNCED FAD OF THE SEASON.

The fancy of the feminine sex for flowered fabric has extended even to the sleeveless coats, which are worn with matching gowns and with those in contrasting effects. Some of the Empire coats to be worn with soft silk and lingerie gowns are of old brocade and Pompadour flowered silk trimmed elaborately with white lace bandings, medallions and motifs, the short-waisted backs defined by means of soutache and cable cordings and the fronts closing with cordage cabachons or olives. Flower-trimmed hats are the correct accompaniments of such coats, and usually they are in matching tones as in the case of the lilac trimmed "Caprice" and the mauve and white Pompadour silk coat.

"Treasures Found in Our American Forests.

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by scores of the most eminent medical writers and teachers of this and other countries. Even the untutored Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race. This information, imparted freely to the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until to-day we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., believes that our American forests abound in medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases, if we would properly investigate them, and, in confirmation of this conviction, he points with pride to the most marvelous cures effected by his "Golden Medical Discovery," which has proven itself to be the most efficient stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart tonic and regulator, and blood cleanser known to medical science. Dyspepsia, or indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even valvular and other affections of the heart yield to its curative action.

The reason why "Golden Medical Discovery" cures these and many other affections, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

To aid in healing old sores, or ulcers, apply Dr. Pierce's All Healing Salve to them while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" to purify and enrich the blood. Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve" is cleansing and pain relieving. It destroys the bad odors arising from suppurating or running sores and puts them in the best possible condition for healing.

The "All-Healing Salve" is a superior dressing for [illegible] running or suppurating Sores or Ulcers. For healing open wounds, cuts and scratches it is unsurpassed.

If your medicine dealer does not have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock mail 50 cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and you will receive it by return post.

In treating all open sores, or ulcers, boils, carbuncles and other swellings, it is important that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery be taken persistently to purify the blood and thereby remove the cause of the trouble. It is in the blood that the great battle of health has to be fought. The ulcer and the sore are simply the scar et [illegible] of disease, [illegible] into the blood. These roots must be eradicated or the disease will break out afresh. "Golden Medical Discovery" cleanses the blood of all foul and poisonous accumulations, pushes out the dead and waste matter, and thus purifies the entire life current. Disease in the flesh must die out when it is no longer fed by foul blood. "Golden Medical Discovery" effectively cures disease in the flesh by curing its cause in the blood.

Not less marvelous in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of woman's many peculiar affections, weaknesses and distressing derangements, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as is amply attested by thousands of unsolicited testimonials contributed by grateful patients who have been cured by it of catarrhal pelvic drains, [illegible] and other displacements caused by weakness, ulceration of uterus and kindred affections often after many other advertised medicines and physicians had failed.

Nursing mothers and over-burdened women in all stations of life, whose vigor and vitality may have been undermined and broken-down by over-work, exacting social duties, the too frequent bearing of children, or other causes, will find in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the most potent, invigorating, restorative strength-giver ever devised for their special benefit. Nursing mothers will find it especially valuable in sustaining their strength and promoting an abundant nourishment for the child. Expectant mothers too will find it a priceless boon to prepare the system for baby's coming and rendering the ordeal comparatively painless. It can do no harm in any state, or condition of the female system.

Delicate, nervous, weak women, who suffer from frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down distress low down in the abdomen, or from painful or irregular monthly periods, gnawing or distressed sensation in stomach, dizzy or faint spells, imaginary specks or spots floating before eyes, have disagreeable pelvic catarrhal drain, prolapsus, anteversion or retroversion or other displacements of [illegible] organs, from weakness of parts, will, whether they experience many or only a few of the above symptoms, find relief and a permanent cure by using faithfully, and fairly persistently, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Both the above [illegible] all [illegible] cines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native, medicinal roots. The processes employed in their manufacture were original with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and appliances specially designed and built for this purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful, habit forming drugs. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle wrapper.

ROOSEVELT CHANGES PLANS

Abandons Proposed Trip to New London on Receipt of News of Cleveland's Death.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., June 24.—News of the death of Grover Cleveland was communicated to President Roosevelt at his summer home here today and caused radical changes in the President's plans for the immediate future.

Mr. Roosevelt announced, on receipt of the news, that he would abandon his proposed trip to New London, Conn., to witness the boat races there, on which he was to have started today. He also at once prepared and subsequently caused to be issued a proclamation to the people of America eulogizing the dead statesman, ordering all government flags half masted for 30 days and directing that military and naval honors be accorded the late President on the day of the funeral.

The President and Mrs. Roosevelt, accompanied by Secretary Loeb, will leave Oyster Bay on a special train on Friday for Princeton, to attend the funeral. When they reach Long Island City a tug will be in readiness to transfer them to Jersey City, whence another special train on the Pennsylvania railroad will take them to Princeton. They will return via the same route to Oyster Bay after the funeral services.

A beautiful floral wreath was ordered by the President to be sent in his name and Mrs. Roosevelt's to Princeton to be placed on the bier of the former President.

ENUNCIATION IN ENGLISH SONG

From the London Academy.

I live opposite to a school where music is carefully and constantly taught. the children have acquired the difficult art of dropping a semitone a minute. But the accent employed is even more interesting than the tone system. Here is a favorite school song:

"Flahrs, luvly flahrs, in a garden yeh my see,
The rowses there with their reuby lip,
Peeks the [illegible] by loves teh sip
Teulips, teulips, gay as a butterfly's wing,
Merrygolds rich as the crahn of a king,

PASSING OF A GREAT AMERICAN.

GROVER CLEVELAND is dead. A great American and a true patriot has passed from the life of the nation in which for nearly a generation he has been one of its most conspicuous figures. The end came unexpectedly; it was a shock to the American public, which in the twelve years since President Cleveland's retirement from public life has forgotten much of the rancor with which it criticised many of his official acts, and has learned to look upon the Sage of Princeton in a truer perspective, and to recognize more clearly the part he played in the country's history during the eight years in which his stern hand directed its destinies. Grover Cleveland was a man of splendid executive ability, an unflinching fighter for what he believed to be right, a statesman and an American of the genuine stamp.

From obscure beginnings, and by the sheer force of his character he forced his way to the highest office within the gift of the American people. Twice he was elected President of the United States, and in three successive hard-fought campaigns, he bore the standard of the Democratic party. It is no small distinction to have been the only man who, in the half century since the Civil war has been possessed of a personality strong enough to lead the forces of the minority to victory. Cleveland's rise was rapid. He first attracted outside attention when as Mayor of Buffalo, he vetoed extravagant appropriations. His tenure of this office led to his nomination and election as governor of New York in 1882. In 1884 he defeated James G. Blaine for the Presidency; in 1888 he was defeated by Benjamin Harrison; and in 1892 he in turn defeated President Harrison.

While he was President, he was President. His was never a vacillating stand. His career was marked by a singleness of purpose, a sturdy courage and a devotion to his country which never wavered. He made many enemies and he invoked severe criticism for his stand on many questions of public policy. His attitude on the Venezuelan situation nearly involved the United States in a serious war. His famous tariff message brought forth a storm of opposition. His advocacy of the civil service brought him the displeasure even of his own party. His interference in the Pullman strike was pronounced by many to be an unwarrantable assumption of federal power. To his administration is attached the stigma of the panic of '93. But withal, his sincerity of purpose, his personal integrity and his rugged character was never questioned.

Grover Cleveland has been a commanding figure in the history of the United States during the trying times of the last quarter of a century. History will accord him a dignified place among those big men who have played a leading part in the shaping of events of the Nineteenth century. His death is mourned by the American people.

SECRETARY WRIGHT.

NEXT week there will be a new Secretary of War. The man who succeeded Taft in the Philippines is to succeed him in the war office. Perhaps in this case it would be better to call it the colonial office; for it is his experience in our new possessions that has led to his appointment; and in ordinary times, the duties of colonial secretary are perhaps more important than those of war secretary. Some day, it is possible, the offices may be separated, as they are in England, but not for a long time. Probably the majority of the people look upon our colonies now as a sort of temporary incubus, and would not think of making permanent provision for the administration of them by a separate department.

General Wright first attained national prominence at the time of the last yellow fever in Memphis, when he took charge of the situation, and was instrumental in stamping out the disease and in taking those measures which have since made Memphis, its inhabitants claim, one of the healthiest cities in the Union. The executive ability shown at that time was manifest again in the Philippines, where he seems to be regarded with an admiration and regard second only to Secretary Taft's own.

The new Secretary of War will not be the first non-Republican in Roosevelt's cabinet. The Attorney-General has always been an independent, and probably always will be; and Secretary Straus was a Cleveland Democrat, and at one time high in the councils of the Democratic party. Mr. Wright is understood to have left the Democracy on the free coinage issue, and has voted the Republican ticket since.

General Wright will be the first ex-Confederate to administer the war department. His choice marks the partial obliteration of the old Mason and Dixon's line. Tennessee was once one of the great Whig states, and there is no good reason why it should not be now a Republican state. East Tennessee is strongly Republican, as it always has been, even during the war and the reconstruction period; Middle Tennessee has some Republican districts; and West Tennessee is conservative in sentiment and by no means idolatrous of Mr. Bryan and his semi-socialistic theories. It is not probably for its political effect, however, that the choice of the new Secretary has been made. It is partly because the President deems him a fit man—perhaps the fittest in sight, and because he wishes to show that so far as he is concerned, there is no longer any north or south, but just a united country.

Some of the names mentioned as possible candidates for Vice President on the Democratic ticket have a strange sound. Norman E. Mack of Buffalo of course we have heard of, though never often as a candidate for office outside of some editorial association; but W. G. Conrad is a new one, and we could not understand the mention of him till it went on to say that he is worth ten to twelve millions of dollars. Since no tainted money of corporations is to be allowed in the Bryan treasury this year, some will have to be secured from other sources; and if the gentleman from Montana with the plethoric bank roll really wants to squander some of it and make himself famous, why should anybody stop him? Then there is Tom Lawson, who has offered a million for the campaign fund if the ticket is made Johnson and Bryan. But he must be switched off; Johnson says he is willing, but Bryan has as yet said nothing. If Lawson will be content to have the ticket Bryan and Lawson, and still put up the million, perhaps some business can be done.

Not long ago a correspondent called our attention to the fact that nowhere in the world was there any war in progress. He seemed to think it an ominous sign. Whether it was that or not, it was bound not to last long. Now there is civil war in Persia, and if there is not a war, there is at least a state of very much strained relations in Venezuela. If there were an international temple of Janus, it would have to stay open pretty regularly.

Two conventions are meeting in Denver this week that may have results almost as important in the long run as the Democratic convention next week—the Civil Engineers and the Credit Men. Some notable addresses have been delivered, perhaps the most notable of which is in the form of a letter from the President to the engineers on the question of conservation of resources.

Mr. Roger Sullivan, of Illinois, has arrived in Denver, with Mrs. Sullivan and five or six young Sullivans, and will stay till after the convention. Mr. Bryan perhaps realizes that if he could get the whole Sullivan vote of the United States he would come a lot nearer to victory than he ever did before.

The mangled remains of the LaFollette Wisconsin platform have been taken charge of by the eminent mortician William J. Bryan and are being embalmed for transportation to Denver.

Castro is a sort of international Bad Boy. Somebody will have to lick him before long, to make him behave; but nobody seems anxious for the job.

From the Chicago Post.

Big with the importance of a new discovery, the London preacher says: "Never check the flowing tide of woman's talk." We never heard of anybody who ever did.

MIDNIGHT MANNERS.

From the Milwaukee Sentinel.

Why is it that a young man, who, on all other occasions, behaves in an exemplary manner, begins to act like a howling dervish the minute he enters an owl car?

JUST FOR THE FOURTH.

From the New York World.

If Mr. Hiram Maxim would only invent a noiseless toy pistol for the Fourth of July he would go down to posterity as a benefactor of mankind.

THE COMFORTS OF HOME.

From the Birmingham News.

This is the season when the summer resort germ begins its ravages. It comes with fly-time and grows more virulent with the lengthening of the days. The west wind fans it to activity, the buzz of the mosquito drives it to a madness of energy. The best place is never advertised. Here you may dress as you like, eat and drink what you prefer and do as you please. There are no parties to attend, no people to bore and be bored by; no hours of rising and retiring, no tips to pay for services not rendered, no exorbitant bills to settle after it is all over. When the vacation germ attacks you, don't wait. Kill it with the conviction that you will spend your time at the cheapest, quietest, cleanest, most comfortable place on earth—home.

PREVENTIVE MEDICINE.

From the Boston Advertiser.

The impetus toward preventive medicine is everywhere apparent. Of the need for the movement it is sufficient to quote that one-third of the human beings born alive die before the age of 5 years, largely from preventable causes, and that one-fourth of the distress which manifests itself through poverty is caused by sickness, largely preventable, and one-half the result of alcoholism, also preventable. While it may yet be long before the world reaches the consummation of Pasteur's prophecy, that "it is within the power of man to make all infectious diseases disappear from the world," the world has come to see clearly that a large proportion of the maladies which sweep victims away year after year can be prevented, not only through direct medical treatment, but through correct living and the efficient administration by authorities of laws of sanitation.

FOR A SENSIBLE FOURTH.

From the Providence Journal.

In the last five years the records, which are doubtless incomplete, show that 1,153 persons have been killed in Fourth of July accidents in the United States and 22,526 others have been seriously injured. What an indictment of our national common sense! Why do we allow this slaughter and maiming to go on? Why is it that in the enlightened twentieth century we are so wedded as a people to a barbarous celebration of the republic's birthday? Most of our other holidays do not measure up to the ideals of those who established them, but at least none of them cause such bloodshed and suffering. It would be interesting to see what would happen if for one Fourth the use of explosives of any sort were absolutely prohibited. Suppose that even the comparatively innocuous firecracker and torpedo were forbidden and the country determined that for once there should be an Independence day free from unusual noise. It might be that the result would be so pleasurable that everybody would subscribe to the indefinite continuation of the new fashion.

BISHOP BRENT'S DECISION.

From the Baltimore Sun.

When a minister of the gospel is invited to a large city charge with an increased salary and perhaps more pleasant surroundings, he often accepts, giving as his reason for so doing that he will be going into a larger field of usefulness and will be enabled to do more good. There is nothing wrong in this, and the man who makes such a decision does not thereby uncover himself to criticism. Still, when a minister refuses an attractive call and elects to remain in an undesirable place because he can do more good there, and so sacrifices worldly ambition and worldly advantage, he is entitled to unstinted praise. The case of the Rt. Rev. Charles Henry Brent is a case in point.

THE MAN AND HIS JOB

By Herbert J. Hapgood

One of the most puzzling problems met with in securing top-notch efficiency among employes is the so-called civil service or "continuous promotion system." Of course the ideal plan is to hire employes from the errand boy upward, who can be continuously promoted from the bottom to the top, but it is not always possible to achieve this result, partly from flaws in the makeup of the man and partly because of peculiar exigencies in certain lines of business. In lifting a man to a superior position in a firm, you must take for granted a certain degree of timidity in the man to find himself suddenly subjected to the scrutiny not only of the management but of his former employes.

A manager who forgets to make allowance for this condition, and who insists on results from the very start is not fit to see his men through on the continuous promotion plan. In many cases it is politic to call in an abject stranger with expert training for the new job, as such a man will invariably be given more time to familiarize himself with the business routine, and is liable to receive more aid from the department heads than a member of the force suddenly promoted over the heads of his fellows.

A good instance in promoting a man from the ranks successfully occurred with a construction company in Cleveland. The fellow came right off the farm and reached the city with a dollar in his jeans. A gang of men were digging a sewer. One of them had been injured and was carried away.

Our rural friend grabbed the vacant shovel and took the other man's place. For nine days he worked like a beast before his presence was discovered by the head contractor, who was quick to see that this new, unbidden worker shoveled more dirt for no pay than any one of the paid hands. He watched him closely, and before another week had elapsed the farm boy was promoted to the position of timekeeper. From this time on the young fellow was steadily advanced for seven years until the firm discovered that he had fitted himself, by special studies, to oversee their most important enterprises such as deck construction and concrete work. At one stroke he was made managing superintendent, and he is now, at 29 years of age, directing three new companies organized by his original employer.

Today's Horoscope

Thursday, June 25, 1908.

The weapon-bearing hand shall furnish aid. Disease and suffering shall be allayed.

Mercury is in aphelion on this one hundred and seventy-seventh day. Mars and the moon are in benefic aspect.

Aid is promised under this astrological configuration to the ill and suffering, from the hand that wields instruments or devices. Consult surgeons, physicians, oculists, dentists and scientific specialists of all kinds.

Chemists, druggists and others of similar profession shall be well guided in this period.

A good time for dealing with all who handle sharp tools, particularly if they are tools that serve as weapons. Transact business with butchers, smiths, woodworkers and engineers.

A good day for soldiers and sailors and all connected with military matters.

Bakers, tailors, shoemakers and grocers will find this an auspicious period.

Hire maids. Plan, refit or order dresses and hats.

Mondays will probably be favorable days for women with this birthdate. If they travel, good results await them in the northern United States or southern Canada.

Chances and doubts will assail the business of men with this birthdate. They will progress in ideas.

The girl born today is under aspects that would give her a restless temperament urging her to some public service.

The boy born under today's sign should prove to be remarkably active and nimble-witted, but will not be sufficiently careful of his own interests.

NEAR TO NATURE

A LENIENT JUDGE.

From the Wichita (Kan.) Eagle.

Down at Oklahoma City the other day Judge Cotteral, not having the right to sentence a man for life for murder, just gave him 99 years in the penitentiary.

MADNESS IN A COURT HOUSE.

From the Emporia (Kan.) Gazette.

The real estate assessment roll of a township in Neosho county was stolen by a bughouse miscreant, and the work will have to be done over again. Consequently, the language being used at the court house in Neosho county is not fit for the girls to hear.

STIMULATED.

From the Grand Saline (Minn.) Sun.

The readers of the Sun will please excuse us this week if we are not up to the standard, for we spent three days at the Press Association and left no one at home to gather news. We feel, however, that the meeting with the "press gang" has stimulated us till we are able to give you better work in the future.

QUAKER CITY ENTERTAINMENT.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

At a garden party to be given on Thursday next in aid of the outing fund of St. Martha's House, at the residence of Mrs. Charles W. Henry, at Chestnut Hill, Miss Edith Kneidler will play a hand organ and sell cigarettes. She will be assisted by Miss Anne Brocker. There is also to be a baby show, and any child under five may be entered.

A REAL TOUGH DEMOCRAT.

From the New Waterford (Ohio) Magnet.

Between the excitement of the Democratic state convention and a bad case of indigestion and rheumatism, the editor of this paper has been pretty well knocked out. But it takes more than one convention and a few days' infirmities to kill a Democrat of the true spirit, hence we have regained sufficient time this week to plant our garden truck and make a part of a hand in our office duties.

HUNTING CONFIDENCE.

William Slyboy owned a bank,
And, with methods very rank,
Kept on loaning to himself
All the people's hard-earned pelf.
Quickly he was caught and jailed.
Then despairingly he wailed:
"See," he cried in rage immense,
"How you've injured confidence!"

Thomas Billyuns swam in gold;
Seven railroads he controlled.
As he bought each one he'd hock
Fifty millions of new stock.
Then came trouble swift and deep
Billyuns then began to weep.
"Have you fools," he cried, "no sense,
Thus to injure confidence?"

Stealthy Steve, the other night,
Robbed a safe with fingers light.
But they caught him with his swag
Neatly done up in a bag.
Stealthy Steve was sadly shocked
When in prison he was locked.
Muttered in a tone intense:
"Dis is h—l on confidence."

PAPER MAKING FROM SUGAR CANE

The claim of a sugar planter on the island of Trinidad that he has discovered a practical method of making paper from the stalks of sugar cane, after the juice has been extracted, has attracted attention. Paper making from sugar cane was discovered some years ago, and a fortune has been awaiting the man who could make the invention a commercial success. The claims of the inventor are set forth in a report to this government by Consul General Richard Guenther of Frankfort, Germany.

The increasing scarcity of spruce, which is the wood most used for paper making, is well known. Active search is being made in many parts of the world for materials to take the place of pulpwood. Enormous quantities of ground sugar cane go to waste at the sugar factories. Some of it is used for fuel under the boilers, but a very large part of it is left to rot.

From time to time experiments have been made to convert the bagasse, or cane refuse, into paper, but with limited success, commercially, unless the Trinidad planter's claim is well founded. He is confident that he has made a valuable discovery and has built an $85,000 paper mill as an adjunct to his sugar factory. He has turned out paper worth $24 a ton, according to Consul General Guenther. About a ton and a quarter of cane makes a ton of pulp. It is reported that the process of manufacture is comparatively inexpensive. The planter claims that it will pay to grow cane for paper alone, leaving the sugar as clear profit.

CHINAMAN KEEPS HIS WORD.

"You soon learn in China that you can trust a Chinaman to carry through anything he agrees to do for you," says Samuel Merwin, in Success. "When I reached T'ai Yuan-fu I handed my interpreter a Chinese draft for $300 (Mexican), payable to bearer, and told him to go to the bank and bring back the money. I had known John a little more than a week, yet anyone who knows China will understand that I was running no appreciable risk. The individual Chinaman is simply a part of a family, the family is part of a neighborhood, the neighborhood is part of a village or district, and so on. If John had disappeared with my money after cashing the draft, and had afterward been caught, punishment would have been swift and severe. Very likely he would have lost his head. If the authorities had been unable to find John they would have polished his family. Punishment would surely have fallen on somebody."

ABOUT 2,000 BUFFALOES LEFT.

There is an article in Country Life in America, for January, entitled "The Fight to Save the Buffalo" by Ernest Harold Baynes, secretary of the society. As to to present status of the animal, Mr. Baynes says: "Roughly speaking, there are now about 2,000 buffaloes in existence. Of these about 1,400 are in the United States, nearly as many in Canada, and, with the exception of a solitary specimen in South America, the balance are in Europe. The last named are nearly all in zoological gardens and may be counted out entirely.

The largest herd in the world today probably is the wild herd which ranges over the Peace river country, in Canada. I am informed by the royal Northwest mounted police that there are about 60 head (estimated) in three different bands."

It was natural that as soon as all the coral tones became the ultrafashion the revival of coral jewelry would begin, it is now in full force.

TWO LAEGE PARTIES COMING

Cleveland Business Men and Delaware Democrats to Be Here Shortly.

Two large parties of distinguished visitors are scheduled to reach this city over the Denver and Rio Grande road at early dates. The first will be the Cleveland Credit Men's association, which is at present attending the national convention in Denver. This party will arrive in this city early Saturday morning, spending the entire day in the Pikes Peak region and leaving for the west on Sunday morning in a special train of seven cars.

The second large party will be the Delaware delegation to the national Democratic convention at Denver, on July 7. Immediately after the convention the Delaware Democrats will head for Colorado Springs in a special train over the Denver and Rio Grande, taking in the Pikes Peak region and continuing the trip as far as the Grand canon.

It is expected that the road will handle other large parties of delegates to the national convention, as inquiries are being received daily regarding side trips through the west.

NEGRESS SLASHES NEIGHBOR WOMAN IN JEALOUS RAGE.

Alleged Love Intrigue Leads Wife to Seek Life of Husband's Affinity at Coal Mines.

Wielding a huge razor, Cora Burns, colored, wife of a coal miner, cut a gash 14 inches long and about two inches deep in the back of Lorella Sawyer, also colored, living near the Curtis coal mine north of this city about noon yesterday. The trouble arose over the alleged relations of the Sawyer woman with the husband of her assailant. Both women are 24 years of age, the Sawyer woman being single.

A call for the ambulance was received at police headquarters at 12:35 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and a rapid run was made to the Curtis mine. The injured woman was removed to St. Francis hospital, where she was attended by County Physician H. L. Richardson.

Reports were circulated that Lorella Sawyer was killed, and, fleeing from the officers, Cora Burns made for Colorado City, where she was arrested at 4 o'clock in the afternoon by Chief Wolfe and Officer Lauderman, on a description furnished by the sheriff's office. She was placed in jail on a charge of assault, but a more serious accusation may be filed against her.

Sheriff O. P. Grimes will take stringent action in regard to violators of the law in the outlying districts of the county, with special reference to offenders in the coal mines district. About two years ago considerable trouble was experienced as a result of cutting and shooting scrapes, but the malefactors were prosecuted to the full extent, and the disturbances were quelled.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE

Judge William G. Ewing of Chicago, member of the Board of Lectureship of First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., will lecture at the Opera House at 8 o'clock this evening. Subject, "Christian Science." Admission free, and the public is invited.

NEW WAGON ARRIVES

Fire Department Equipped With Latest Design of Chemical.

Chief E. E. Baty of the fire department has received the new chemical wagon, which cost $1,850, delivered, and weighs 3,800 pounds. It is rubber tired and runs easily. Special features are the brakes on both axles, which operate similarly to those on automobiles.

The wagon carries 1,000 feet of heavy hose and 200 feet of rubber hose for the chemical tank, which holds 40 gallons. The tank can be refilled in three minutes. Water may be turned into the chemical tank and then pumped through the small chemical hose, in cases wherein a large stream would cause damage.

JUDGE EWING MARVELS AT GROWTH OF CITY.

Noted Lecturer on Christian Science Enjoys Visit to Pikes Peak Region.

Judge William G. Ewing of Chicago, who is to lecture at the Opera House this evening on "Christian Science," arrived in the city yesterday morning and was the guest of Mrs. W. K. Jewett, 1315 North Cascade avenue. After an automobile ride in the morning, when Judge Ewing viewed the city, Mrs. Jewett entertained at an informal luncheon at her home in honor of the distinguished visitor.

Miss Ruth Ewing, daughter of Judge Ewing, has been spending several weeks in the city the guest of Miss Josephine Trott, 23 West Washington street, and has been camping a portion of the time in Ute Pass with a party of friends. Judge and Miss Ewing will remain here until Saturday.

Changes Since 1876.

"I note great changes in Colorado Springs since my previous visits here," said Judge Ewing yesterday afternoon. "When I first saw Colorado Springs in 1876 it was a little settlement of perhaps a dozen houses, at least there did not seem to be more than that number, although I do not remember to have counted them. There were no street cars either in Colorado Springs or Denver in those days. I was in charge of a party of college students at the time of my first visit and we were camped about 125 miles west of here. We were on no special mission—just out for a vacation.

"Denver was at that time a comparatively small place, and I remember very distinctly that there was a corral and rail fences in what is now the center of the city.

"My next visit was in 1892, when I came to Denver to attend a banquet of the Commercial club. I was then representing the World's Fair of 1893, held in Chicago, and was engaged with others in bringing that event to the attention of the country. My last visit here was about 10 years ago, when I delivered the first Christian Science lecture ever given in Colorado Springs.

Growth Has Been Great.

"One who has been familiar with the early history of this place cannot fail to be impressed with the splendid growth Colorado Springs has made, and it is not easy to recognize in the fine city of today the little settlement which I first saw in 1876. I need hardly say that I am happy to be here. Everyone likes to come to Colorado Springs."

Judge Ewing was for many years closely identified with the political life of the middle west, or what was then the west. His family enjoyed an intimate personal acquaintance with Lincoln, with whom Judge Ewing, then a boy, was a great favorite.

He was active in behalf of Grover Cleveland during his first campaign, and after the election Cleveland appointed him United States attorney for Illinois. Subsequently he was elected judge of the superior court of Chicago and held that office until he retired to take up his work in the Christian Science lecture field. He was one of the first lecturers in that field and was lecturer-at-large, his district covering the United States, Canada and Mexico. He also lectured through England, Ireland, Scotland, France and Germany and delivered the first public lecture on Christian Science ever given in Europe.

Judge Ewing is recognized as one of the ablest speakers in the field, and his subject is one which is attracting the attention of the world today by reason of the remarkable growth of the Christian Science movement and the work which it is accomplishing. He will lecture at the Opera House at 8 o'clock this evening. No admission fee is charged at any of these lectures, and the public is invited to attend.

HAS TO FACE SERIOUS CHARGE

Italian Who Eloped With Young Girl Will Be Tried on Saturday.

Sullenly marching into Justice G. R. Dunnington's court in charge of an officer, Peter Forte, the Italian arrested with 15-year-old Bessie Smith in Pueblo Tuesday morning, was yesterday remanded to the county jail, to appear before Dunnington Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, on charges of rape and abduction.

Forte and the young girl eloped from the home of the girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Smith, during their absence last week. After tracing them to Pueblo, Trinidad, La Junta, Raton, N. M., and back to Pueblo, Sheriff O. P. Grimes secured their arrest in Pueblo. It was learned yesterday that the couple were married at Raton, despite the fact that Forte was previously married in Pueblo. Since the alleged bigamy was committed in New Mexico, no action based on this offense can be filed against him in Colorado.

The girl claims that she obeyed Forte's instructions in telling the county clerk at Raton that she was of age. She alleges that when her parents were summoned to the northern part of Colorado by a telegram announcing the critical condition of her brother, she and Forte went to the railroad station to leave for Pueblo, and that when they learned that there was no train until next morning, Forte overcame her strenuous objection and went with her to a rooming house in this city. She claims not to have been aware that the Italian was previously married. The girl will probably be given in charge of Juvenile Officer W. M. Reasoner.

BABCOCK WILL FILED

SPRINGS MAN LEAVES ESTATE WORTH $170,000.

Widow Is Administratrix and Principal Heir to California Property.

A copy of the will of the late Graham E. Babcock of this city, which was filed in the superior court of San Diego, Cal., as announced in The Gazette several weeks ago, was filed in the probate court in this city yesterday.

Mr. Babcock died April 6, 1908, leaving an estate valued at $170,000. His nine-year-old daughter, Doris, was left $1,000, and $5,000 was left to Clara L. Ingle of San Diego. The remainder of the estate was left to his wife, Mrs. Bob Myer Babcock, who lives in Colorado Springs with her daughter. She is administratrix, without bond. Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Babcock, parents of the late Graham E. Babcock, live in San Diego, where Mr. Babcock has large interests.

The estate consists in part as follows:

Improved real estate in Coronado, Cal., $50,000; acreage property near the mouth of the Tia Juan river, in San Diego county, $8,000; "Los Banos," a bathing establishment under lease in San Diego, bringing in an annual income of $5,000, and personal property worth $77,000.

The will, dated January 12, 1908, was placed for safekeeping in the First National bank of this city and after Mr. Babcock's death was filed in San Diego.

Mr. Babcock and family came to Colorado Springs about two years ago. He invested heavily in real estate in this city, which is not mentioned in the will, and which is understood to be in the name of Mrs. Babcock.

REUNION OF INDIAN FIGHTERS

Veterans Who Participated in Sand Creek Battle Will Congregate on Scene July 14.

To commemorate the battle of Sand Creek, fought against the Indians in 1864, all surviving veterans who took part in the struggle will gather on the old battleground on July 14. A special invitation has been issued to all members of the First and Third Colorado cavalry who had part in that affair, by the committee in charge, consisting of Captain H. M. Orahood, Sergeant Henry Blake, Lieutenant L. H. Dickson and H. M. Coffin and W. H. Dickens, and the instructions are to meet at the Union depot in Denver at 11 o'clock in the forenoon on July 13 to take the train for Kit Carson. From there the trip of 25 miles to the battleground will be made in carriages, and two or three days will be spent in camping. From the southern part of the state the veterans will go by way of the Missouri Pacific to Chivington, 12 miles from the battlefield, and from there will go in carriages to join their old comrades in camp. Supplies for the outing may be had at Kit Carson.

He Got What He Needed.
"Nine years ago it looked as if my time had come," says Mr. C. Farthing of Mill Creek, Ind. Ter. "I was so run down that life hung on a very slender thread. It was then my druggist recommended Electric Bitters. I bought a bottle and I got what I needed—strength. I had one foot in the grave, but Electric Bitters put it back on the turf again, and I've been well ever since." Sold under guarantee at all druggists. 50 cents.

SUSPECTS HORSE THIEVES

Dr. Rothrock Loses Valuable Animal From Pasture on Westman Ranch.

Dr. F. E. Rothrock is mourning the loss of of a fine buggy horse that has been in pasture at the Westman ranch, near Edgerton, eight miles north of the city. The horse is a dark sorrel, 14 hands high and 8 years old. Dr. Rothrock believes that the animal has been stolen.

The horse was missed last Monday, when Dr. Rothrock sent for it, though the other horses with which it was in pasture were all there, and no breaks in the fence could be found, leading to the belief that the animal was taken by thieves. The owner has offered a reward of $20 for the return of the horse and the police department has been notified of the loss.

CONCERT BIG SUCCESS

CROWDS APPLAUD RICE-CAESAR CO. AT BOSTON HARBOR.

Third Night of K. P. Fair in Temple Theater Makes Bigger Hit Than Ever.

The Rice-Caesar Concert company more than met the expectations of the hundreds that went to Boston Harbor fair last night expressly to hear this special attraction.

The company made its introduction in a free concert before the entire audience at 8:30, as announced, and so popular did it become that the first inside concert crowded the seating capacity on the stage. Mr. Rice, by special request, sang "The Holy City," and his splendid tenor voice rang through the theater in tones that held the thousand or more spellbound.

Music lovers who have not attended the fair before were there in large numbers, and quickly filled the stage room for the first concert. Each spoke in high terms of praise after the concert was over, and their presence again to hear this company alone is assured. It is beyond question the greatest musical treat ever offered in connection with a fair of this character. This company never appears in concert for less than 75 cents admission, and it is an attraction to be appreciated by every lover of good music in the city.

The third night of the fair was a success greater than the other two. Every attraction drew, and the patrons of the country store were especially lucky.

Ticket No. 3638 was the lucky winner of the fireless cooker, donated by the Barnes Hardware company.

Ticket No. 2316 was the winner of the suit case donated by the Gano-Downs company.

All the prizes so far won have been claimed. John W. Howell of Papeton won the two Royal Gorge tickets. M. F. Marshall of 12 East Las Animas street won the Georgetown Loop ticket. Dr. L. A. Miller of Colorado City won the Cripple Creek Short Line ticket. Mrs. A. H. Garnett won the refrigerator.

SPRING SURPRISE ON FRIENDS

Richard Francis Morris and Miss Ada Bayne Quietly Married in Denver.

Slipping quietly away to Denver, leaving their friends in ignorance of their intention, Richard Francis Morris, manager of the Colorado Springs branch of the Colorado Telephone company, and Miss Ada Bayne, also connected with the local office, were married in Denver yesterday by the Rev. Dr. Coyle, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church of that city.

Only Denver relatives and Miss Caroline Bayne of Colorado Springs, a sister of the bride, were present. The couple are spending the first few days of their honeymoon at Glenwood Springs, and after a brief tour of the state will return to this city.

Mr. Morris has been manager of the Colorado Springs office of the telephone company for many years and is a well-known clubman and Elk. Miss Bayne, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bayne, 317 East Monument street, has also been in the employ of the company for several years. Her sister, Miss Caroline Bayne, is chief clerk of the office.

WED IN LOS ANGELES

Mrs. Willa Goodman Married to Former Springs Man.

Word was received in this city yesterday of the marriage in Los Angeles of Mrs. Willa Goodman, nee Saffell, to Cloyd Goshen. Both of the contracting parties formerly lived in Colorado Springs and have a large number of friends in this city. Mrs. Goodman is a sister of Mrs. William Barber, and Mr. Goshen is the son of Mrs. S. S. Bernard. The marriage was performed at Los Angeles at 8:15 o'clock yesterday morning. The couple will make their home in Los Angeles.

APPLE TREE ON BROADWAY.

One of the few remaining monumental trees of New York stands in Grace church yard, at Broadway and Tenth street. It's an old common country apple tree, but it keeps green the memory of one Mynheer Brevoort, Dutchman and farmer. Nearly 100 years ago the Brevoort acres spread out where the church now stands. When New York began to stretch out, the city planned a straight thoroughfare and named it Broadway. The surveyors got as far as Tenth street, where their progress was stopped by the Brevoort gate. "Keep off my land!" shouted old Brevoort in most forcible Dutch, confronting them with a dog and stick. The surveyors scaled the fence and marched off through the next man's field to the left. The result was that the plans for a straight main thoroughfare were unmade by old Brevoort's threatening stick and tongue. That is why there is a bend in the street at this point and why a man is kept there greasing the trolley slot, why teamsters tug their reins and speeding automobiles slow up. Grace church came into possession of the land in later years and in gratitude the church ... preserving the old tree to commemorate Brevoort's memory.

HENRY FARMAN, AERONAUT.

Henry Farman, who has attracted notice because of his successful aeroplane experiments, is 30 years of age, and is one of three sons of a well-known English journalist. Before taking to aeronautics Mr. Farman had made a considerable name in the French sporting world. When cycle racing was the rage he and his brother won many championships. They formed a tandem team which proved invincible. Then he took to motoring, and won the Paris and Nice race in 1902. In the great Paris to Vienna race he gained first honors for heavy machines. His motor racing career, however, came to a sudden termination after an accident which landed him high up in the branches of a tree.

HAPPIEST ROYAL CHILD.

Happiest, perhaps, of all the royal children of Europe are those of Archduke Franz Ferdinand of Austria, for, by a fact their father was compelled to sign before their birth, none of them is eligible to the throne. When the archduke married Countess Sophia Chotek, now princess of Hohenberg, he was obliged to sign a paper agreeing that their children should make no claim on the succession under any circumstances. The archduke is heir presumptive to the thrones of Austria and Hungary, as Franz Josef has no sons. It's true the present emperor and king appears to be an immortal, but it is possible he will die one of these days, and when he does Franz Ferdinand will succeed him.

BASEBALL AND OTHER SPORTS

TRINIDAD WINS, 6-1

DEFEATS ZEBS IN THIRD GAME OF SERIES.

Ackley Mainly Responsible, While Coal Diggers Have Barngrover to Thank for Good Pitching.

Trinidad won the third game of the series yesterday in one of the rastest exhibitions of baseball that has recently been seen at Roswell park. The score was 6 to 1. Ackley is to blame for the six, and Barngrover for the one. Trinidad's first four runs were secured on a base on balls, two doubles, a triple and a single. Ackley is not entirely to blame for this, because three of these were scratch hits. But it was his own fault that the two were let in in the eighth, one of his customary wild heaves to first allowing two men to score when perfect handling of the ball would have retired the side. Furthermore, he was entirely too generous with his bases on balls, although only one figured in the scoring.

It was this wild heave that finished Ackley's habitation of the pitcher's box, but the change was made too late to be of any good. Clifford finished the inning, and in the final round, Mike Reilly, the Colorado City southpaw, was given a chance. He used his inning to good advantage, not allowing a man to get on bases.

Barngrover Unbattable.

Barngrover pitched for Trinidad and, in direct opposition to his form in the opening game, was unhittable by the locals. He used an underthrow that they could not solve, the Zebs invariably knocking high flies which were easily handled by the outfield. For the first five innings the Zebs did not get a hit, and in all they secured only three singles. Only four men got on bases. It was a case of Trinidad's hitting in luck, and vice versa for the Zebs.

Metz, of three-bagger fame, who, with the big third baseman, Kroell, has been released by the Cripple Creek team, played with the Zebs yesterday, and will probably appear in the two games Saturday and Sunday. Wasson went to Boulder for a short stay yesterday.

A Good Game.

The contest had all the ear-marks of a good game, being marred by few errors and enlivened by some good fielding stunts, chief among which were the two double plays, Moorehead to Dow and Hester to Dow. Green played a great game in left for Trinidad.

Trinidad leaves today for a two-game series at Cripple Creek, and returns to play two more with the Zebs on Saturday and Sunday. The High Graders have secured a star player, Davisson, from DePauw university, who will replace Kroell at third.

CLARK GRIFFITH RESIGNS

Manager of New York Americans Discouraged at Showing of the Team.

PHILADELPHIA, June 24.—Clark Griffith, manager of the New York baseball team of the American league, tendered his resignation to Frank Farrell, owner of the team, today. Griffith asked to be relieved from the management of the team several days ago, and, following a conference with Mr. Farrell before the game with Philadelphia, here today, he tendered his resignation, to take effect at once.

Griffith said he was disheartened, and felt that he ought to get out and give Mr. Farrell a chance to try another manager. He said there was no dissension among the players. Elberfield is mentioned as a possible successor to Griffith.

SHERIDAN NOT TO COMPETE

Great Discus Thrower Will Not Join American Olympic Team. Other Losses.

NEW YORK, June 24.—With the departure of the American team from Olympic games in London, only a few days away, word of the probable withdrawal of another top classman from the aggregation in addition to the three who earlier in the week announced their inability to make the trip has been received by the committee. Manager Mathew Halpin has been notified that Martin J. Sheridan, entered for the discus throw, would probably decline to start for London with the team on Saturday.

As is the case of Dray, the Yale pole vaulter, Witham, the Pennsylvania sprinter, and Rowe of Michigan, the Intercollegiate two-mile champion, it is unlikely that the committee will make any attempt to fill Sheridan's place on the team should it finally turn out that he is unable to go.

A number of men on the second list, however, will be added to the party, owing to the financial assistance of friends of clubs or colleges to which the men belong. Seven already added are D. D. Robbins, Yale; C. B. Beard, Ames university, Iowa; W. M. Band, Harvard; F. M. Deselding, Harvard; B. E. Sherman, Harvard; Lewis Tewamin, Carlisle Indian school, and N. C. DeGrote, Missouri Athletic club.

Western athletes are beginning to arrive and the entire team is expected to be on hand Friday night at the New York Athletic club house for the final muster. Among the arrivals were John W. Garrels, Chicago Athletic club; W. J. Huff, Chicago Athletic association, and J. P. Halstead, Cornell university.

HARVARD-YALE RACES TODAY

Rival Crews Await Annual Event With Keen Interest—Roosevelt Family at New London.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 24.—The eve of the Harvard-Yale rowing race finds the city awaiting the event with keen expectancy, with the varsity eights more evenly matched than in many years before. With the vanguard of the great throngs expected tomorrow already here, there is much disappointment that the program is to be slightly changed.

Today primary features of the Harvard-Yale regatta were given, two good races being rowed, the freshmen four and the graduates eight, both resulting in victories for Harvard.

Starting from the three-mile flag, the Yale graduates got the better of the start, but when the first half of the race was over, the Harvard crew ran up its stroke and began to gain rapidly. Yale hung on gamely, but Harvard won by three-quarters of a length in 2:32, fairly good time.

The presidential yacht, Mayflower, on which are Mrs. Roosevelt and family, which left Oyster Bay this afternoon, steamed into the lower harbor and anchored off the Fort Griswold house shortly after 10 o'clock tonight. It is understood that in the morning Mrs. Roosevelt and the children will be transferred to the Sylph, which will anchor abreast of the finish line of the races.

What the Press Agents Say

HOWE AND EDWARDS, POULTRY FARMERS

Howe and Edwards, who are appearing at the Empire this week in "The Arrival of Mr. Dooley," have had many funny experiences in their extensive travels. They have toured Europe, Africa and Australia, also every square inch of the United States. They are believers in the maxim of seeing their own country first and then setting out to see the remainder of the world.

Mr. Howe has a failing for poultry, either fried, roasted, dead or alive. He is a partner in a large poultry raising business in Chochituate, Mass., where he breeds some of the best birds shown in the east. He recounts with a smile how some years ago he thought he had enough of the glamour of the footlights and bethought himself that he would settle down at chicken raising. Unfortunately, a rainstorm visited his chicken ranch and drowned the greater part of his stock. He says with a laugh that if he had taken his wife's advise and raised ducks instead he would be a rich man now.

Howe and Edwards are making a great hit this week with their screamingly funny skotch.

SPLENDID PROGRAM AT FAIRYLAND

One of the best programs ever presented in Colorado Springs is to be seen at Fairyland this afternoon and evening, the feature film being "Honesty Is the Best Policy," a pathetic story of life in the slums, an intensely interesting series of pictures that will please everyone, young and old.

"Freight Train in Ute Pass." Here is something simply grand in this picture. You can watch the monster engine as it pulls the train around curves, through tunnels. The scenes will no doubt look familiar to some, but very beautiful to everyone who witnesses this extraordinary picture.

"The Financial Scare" is a comedy picture of great merit.

"The Four-Footed Hero" is a picture that is famous the country over. In this picture is a dog with almost human intelligence. See him rouse the police, sound the fire alarm and finally rescue a little child from a burning building. This is truly a beautiful picture. Jack Begley will sing "Darling" in his usual pleasing manner. This is a program you should not fail to see.

AT THE NEW ELECTRIC THEATER

The managers have promised that they will show absolutely new pictures today, and that all will be the best that can be obtained. The machine they have is the best made, and, in order to get the best results, they will use only the newest and most perfect pictures. Manager Schuster has closed a contract with a large eastern film house, which will send his changes regularly, and only good, entertaining pictures. Mr. Harry Winner, an expert musician, has been secured for pianist. He has had a great deal of experience in this line of work and makes the pictures much more interesting by playing suitable music. Mr. Jaffe will continue to sing the illustrated songs.

Special attention called to the Sells-Floto science of tent construction and erection to withstand rain and storm.

A distinguishing feature of the Sells-Floto Shows is the monster free open den street caravan. Who does not like to see the circus parade? Who would not view the gaily colored cages come along when Madame Valicito is seen spanking the nose of a large lion with a little whip, while cheers greet the act? The "Rube" clown, who gets arrested for blocking traffic on the streets, with his mule and cart, was once a great feature. He is well known now, but the inventive minds of circus men will have another novelty to replace him. Another event of moment in every small town, and large one, too, for that matter, is the early arrival of the circus train. Long before the long train pulls in on the sidetrack near the depot the crowd is there. There is an army of juvenile volunteers, who are willing to carry water for the elephants just to get a free pasteboard entitling them to admission to the show later in the day. Men are there—to see that their boys, who have passed a sleepless night—do not get hurt. Even women find some excuse for going down to the railroad yards and taking a long look at the canvas-covered cars. Boys, who have gathered and sold enough old iron, rags and bones to get 50 cents, enjoy a memorable day, and the streets leading from the farming district to town are covered with every imaginable kind of vehicle.

Like the others, the farmers come—to bring the children. The feed dealer, who supplies hay, oats and corn for the horses on a contract made with the advance man, wants several extra tickets—just for the children. The same is true of the butcher, who supplies the meat for the cook tent.

As soon as the sun is out there is bustle and activity every place. If the superintendent of the public schools is wise he will declare a holiday. What boy or girl can think of geography, spelling or arithmetic when there is a circus in town? In the language of the German comedian, "It is to laugh." The circus does a land office business, and, as the crowd is pouring into the circus tent from the menagerie at the night performance, the army of employes of the show starts to take down the canvas which shelters the cages and the work of loading the outfit onto the train begins. Thousands of tired boys and girls retire, after having seen the show, peaceful and contented. The following morning the antics of the clown cause merriment at the breakfast table and some youths who reside near the circus lot hurry through their morning ablutions in order to go over near the ring and see if any change has been dropped by the spectators of the previous night. The great Sells-Floto Shows will be here tomorrow.

DRUG STORE CHANGES HANDS

The Bower Drug Company Buys Stock of Reid-Moore Company.

The Bower Drug company yesterday took over the business of the Reid-Moore Drug company, corner of North Tejon street and Kiowa street. It is understood the consideration involved is $10,000. The new firm is controlled by E. E. Bower, formerly of Ohio, who has been in the city during the last 18 months. He states that additions will be made to the large stock on hand and that the store will be conducted along the most up-to-date lines.

MINER ESCAPES FLAMES

Report of Death of H. C. Levelle in Forest Fire Is Erroneous.

H. C. Levelle, a well-known prospector who was engaged in mining in the burned Woodland Park district, wants his friends to know that he is not dead, as reported, but still in the flesh, although his cabin and all his goods were destroyed by the big forest fire that raged several days ago. Mr. Levelle announced that the report of his death was similar to the one on the death of Mark Twain, greatly exaggerated.

The rumor of his death gained credence through the fact that his cabin and burro failed to survive the flames. His friends did not know that upon hearing of the big fire he had hastened to the front and joined the fighters on the east side of the burned area. Meanwhile the fire spread so rapidly that it swept over his little mountain home, leaving nothing in its wake but ashes. The only thing saved by Mr. Levelle were two shovels that he lent to men to fight the flames.

Mr. Levelle is well known among mining men and the reports of his death were received with profound sorrow. He has lived in Colorado all his life and for the past three years has been working four claims a mile from Skeleton.

MAID OF ERIN STARTS

MINE RESTORED TO SHIPPING RANKS.

Ore Shoot of Promising Value Has Been Opened Up—Machinery Has Been Installed.

Special to The Gazette.

ELKTON, Colo., June 24.—The Maid of Erin, one of the mines included in the Elkton Consolidated company's estate, situate east of and adjoining the Princess E. on the southwestern slope of Raven hill, has been restored to the shipping ranks after a long period of idleness, by lessees.

About a month ago, Stark and Agnew, well-known lease operators, secured the ground under lease, and after a thorough examination of the old workings, installed machinery. Work was started at the 400-foot level, where a vein of low-grade ore was found exposed. Its development has resulted in the opening up of an ore shoot of promising value and dimensions. The initial shipment from the new strike was loaded out today, at the Jo Dandy switch, consisting of both coarse rock and screenings, estimated to return values of $30 a ton.

The Elkton main workings are producing heavily, and the treasury reserve is rapidly increasing. Tomorrow is dividend day for this corporation, when checks for the third bimonthly dividend for the present year will be mailed all stockholders of record.

TRAMWAY ALMOST FINISHED

Transportation of Ore Direct From Ore Bins of Cresson to Cars on Switch Is Now Possible.

Special to The Gazette.

ELKTON, Colo., June 24.—The new overhead tramway for the transportation of ore direct from the ore bins of the Cresson Consolidated company, on the north slope of Raven hill, to the cars set on the loading switch in Eclipse gulch, near this place, will be put in operation by the end of the week. The tramway will save a haul of about one mile, and, it has been estimated, effect a saving in transportation charges of approximately 50 cents a ton. The Cresson mine is producing about 2,000 tons monthly of about one-ounce ore, and the saving will materially enhance the mine profit.

ORE RUNS ABOUT $15 TO TON

One Car of Low Grade Shipped Daily From Last Dollar.

Special to The Gazette.

VICTOR, Colo., June 24.—The Western Investment company of this city, operating the Last Dollar mine on Bull hill, is shipping at the rate of a car a day, from the low-grade ore bodies under development in the different levels, and the average value of all ores is holding at about three-quarters of an ounce gold, or $15 a ton. The Last Dollar shaft is one of the deepest in the camp, 1,350 feet from sump to collar. The Last Dollar has produced to date in excess of $3,000,000.

MOLLIE KATHLEEN SHIPPING

STOCKS ARE STAGNANT

BUSINESS IS ON EXTREMELY SMALL SCALE.

Trading Sinks Almost to the Point of Idleness—Weather News of Interest.

NEW YORK, June 24.—The complexion of affairs in the stock market today took on a colorless hue, and the trading sank almost to the point of idleness. A large proportion of the day's scanty total of shares transferred were sold in the first hour of the session. This little spurt of activity subsided immediately, and practical stagnation ensued.

This extreme dullness is not unseasonable. The serious illness of the Republican nominee for vice president seemed to have the effect of emphasizing the hesitation incident to the progress of a political campaign, while the death of ex-President Cleveland came as something of a shock to the public, and had a material influence in deepening the prevailing mood. The announcement of the booking of return passage to Europe for J. P. Morgan, for tomorrow, confirmed the assurances of the purely personal and family grounds for his sudden relation to this country in the midst of his usual foreign vacation. News of the discontinuance of diplomatic relations between the United States and Venezuela were ignored apparently.

Weather news is scanned with constant attention, and any movement in the commodities markets that may be relied on as a true index of crop conditions is looked for closely. London was said to be a buyer of stocks here on a moderate scale and this helps to an early show of firmness.

The extreme ease of call money is attributable to some temporary accumulations in preparation for the July settlements. No engagements of gold for shipment by tomorrow's steamers were made, and this would be the latest shipment available for the July settlement in Berlin. The gold export movement is considered to be ended.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,254,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

STOCK MARKET OPINIONS

(By Leased Wire to J. C. Cullens.)

NEW YORK, June 24.—A. O. Brown and company say: While the market appears to be under the control of the bear crowd, we do not look for prices to sell much lower, and think purchases made at present prices will pay good profits in the near future.

Hutton and company say: We look for the market to do some better. Such stocks as Union Pacific, Reading and Copper issues should be better. Crop conditions are more favorable in the south, and this should cause some halt to the sharp decline.

Miller and company say: We think the market around the low point for both railroads and industrials. There is no reason why good stocks purchased at these prices should not net a good profit.

Bache and company say: The feeling is gaining that there will be a further break in stocks, but we are of the opinion that they will do better.

Foley's Honey and Tar cures the most obstinate coughs and expels the cold from the system as it is mildly laxative. It is guaranteed. Do not risk taking any but the genuine in the yellow package. For sale by all dealers.

WHEAT PRICES HIGHER

SHORTS CAUSE RALLY OF MORE THAN ONE CENT.

Heavy Sales of July and Purchase of September Feature of Trading. Corn Closes Firm.

CHICAGO, June 24.—The wheat market opened weak because of lower cables and general clear weather in the southwest. Sentiment continued bearish until late in the day, when shorts became active bidders, resulting in a rally of more than 1c in all deliveries. The feature of trade was heavy sales of July and the purchase of September by elevator interests, which caused the latter option to rise to ½c premium over July. The active buying late in the session was due to the black rust reports from Nebraska and a better demand for cash wheat both here and at the seaboard. The market closed firm, July opened ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, at 85⅝, to 85¾, advanced to 86⅛ and closed at 86. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 82,300 bushels. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 210 cars, against 176 cars last week and 297 cars one year ago.

The corn market was weak during the last half of the session, because of the break in wheat and because of the favorable weather for the new crop. The market closed firm. July opened ¼ to ⅜ lower, at 67¾ to 69, sold off to 68⅝ and then advanced to 69⅛. The close was at 68⅞. Local receipts were 196 cars, with 22 of contract grade.

There was considerable of profit-taking in oats early in the day owing to the break in other grain and to improved crop reports and advices from Indiana and Illinois, claiming that the drouth in those states had been broken by rain last night. Later in the day the market rallied along with wheat and corn. July opened ⅛@¼ lower, at 44⅛, sold off to 44⅛ and then advanced to 45⅜, where it closed. Local receipts were 116 cars.

Provisions opened firm on buying of a general character, which was prompted by a 5 to 10c advance in live hogs. Later the market lost most of its firmness owing to profit-taking sales and to selling by local packers. At the close September pork was 5c higher, at $14.85; lard was unchanged, at $9.12½; ribs a shade lower, at $8.37½.

CURES HEMORRHAGES OF THE LUNGS.

"Several years since my lungs were so badly affected that I had many hemorrhages," writes A. M. Ake, of Wood, Ind. "I took treatment with several physicians without any benefit. I then started to take Foley's Honey and Tar, and my lungs are now as sound as a bullet. I recommend it in advanced stages of lung trouble." Foley's Honey and Tar stops the cough and heals the lungs, and prevents serious results from a cold. Refuse substitutes. For sale by all dealers.

Loans Repaid

The payment of interest is easy, but when it comes to the raising of a large sum with which to repay the principal, but few borrowers are equal to the emergency. Usually an extension is called for or a new loan is made with which to pay off the old one. The various loaning plans of THE ASSURANCE SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION afford unusual facilities for repayment, and do not hinder or restrict the transfer of properties. "BABY MINE"

Every mother dreads the pain attendant upon the most critical period of her life. Becoming a mother should be a source of joy, but the suffering incident to the ordeal makes its anticipation one of dread. Mother's Friend is the only remedy which relieves women of much of the pain of maternity; this hour, dreaded as woman's severest trial, is not only made less painful, but danger is avoided by its use. Those who use this remedy are no longer despondent or gloomy; nervousness, nausea and other distressing conditions are overcome, and the system is prepared for the coming event by the use of Mother's Friend. "It is worth its weight in gold," says many who have used it. $1.00 per bottle at drug stores. Book containing information of value to all women, sent free upon application to BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.

PROFESSIONAL.

DO YOU WANT TO GET WELL?

Mrs. Ed. Nolte, magnetic healer, of Falls City, Nebraska, having recently located here in the city of Colorado Springs, Colorado, wishes to announce to the public that her method of healing cures all manner of curable diseases without medicine or surgery. Office at residence, 508 East Cache la Poudre St. Office hours, 9 to 11 a. m. and 1 to 4 p. m.

The following is clipped from the Falls City News:

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Nolte will leave Falls City about June 1, and go to Colorado Springs, Colo., where they will reside in the future.

This fact is generally regretted by the people of this city and county. For nine years Mrs. Nolte has practiced here as a magnetic healer and her success has been unlimited. She leaves a very large practice and there is regret on all sides because she is to leave.

The people have learned that magnetic healing is not a myth, but that it is founded upon a theory and principle that will and has stood the test and given results most satisfactory.

Like all good things, magnetic healing has been adopted by fakers. But these have not injured Mrs. Nolte in the least. She has lived here constantly during the past nine years, during which time she has practiced, and in many instances physicians have sent her patients beyond the help of medicine and she has not in a single instance failed to make good.

The News can, without the slightest hesitancy, recommend her to the people of Colorado Springs. They will find her a conscientious and faithful worker in her profession.

Mrs. Nolte's many Falls City patients and friends regret that she is going away and hope that in the near future she will decide to come back to Falls City to reside. She is needed here; the people have confidence in her and a large practice is awaiting her any time she comes.

The News wishes her the success that she deserves at Colorado Springs.

NEW IRRIGATION CO

I have beautiful lying land close to Colorado Springs that cost me less than $10 an acre. I own water in Fountain creek, flowing past this city. The earliest obtainable priority, always water when other ditches fail. The land with water put on it sufficient to cover a foot deep costs me less than $15 per acre, and is selling every day at $100 to $200 an acre.

If you have $5,000 or $10,000 to invest, I will show you how you can make $100,000 in less than six months. Absolutely safe and sure. You would not hesitate a second to exchange silver dollars for golden eagles.

If you have the money, don't let the small trouble of investigating this stand between you and fortune. P. O. Box 1261.

DO YOU SMELL GOOD?

Perspiration is not only natural, but is also necessary for health and comfort. The odors of perspiration, however, are disagreeable and altogether unnecessary. Shiro Powder does not STOP perspiration, but ABSORBS it—and its odors as well.
